ULCEBY with FORDINGTON.

ULCEBY is a small village and parish, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, Wold division of Calceworth hundred, petty sessional division of Alford, union and county court district of Spilsby, rural deanery of Calceworth No. 2, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 3 miles south-west from Alford station and 5½ east-north-east from Spilsby. The church of All Saints is a small and plain edifice of brick, erected in 1826, at a cost of £450, and consists of chancel and nave, with a belfry containing 1 bell. The register dates from 1749. The living is a rectory, with that of Fordington annexed, joint gross yearly value £680 with residence, in the gift of and held since 1877 by the Rev. Walter Gilbert Peacock B.A. of Balliol College, Oxford. There is a Wesleyan chapel, the site of which forms part of a piece of ground in dispute between this parish and that of Dexthorpe. In the parish is a lofty hill called "Bull's Head," and a well-known land mark. Miss Mansell, who is lady of the manor, Miss Constance Nisbet-Hamilton and the Rev. W. G. Peacock B.A. are the principal landowners. The soil is chalky loam; subsoil, chalk and red clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley, seeds and turnips. The area of the parish of Ulceby with Fordington is 2,220 acres; rateable value, £2,341; the population in 1881 was 176.

FORDINGTON is a hamlet, in the parish of Ulceby, but in the hundred of Candleshoe, about half a mile south-west from the church.

ULCEBY VILLAGE is a parish and large village, in the Northern division of the county, parts of Lindsey, northern division of the Yarborough wapentake, union of Glanford Brigg, Barton-upon-Humber petty sessional division and county court district, rural deanery of Yarborough No. 1, archdeaconry of Stow and diocese of Lincoln, distant 164½ miles from London, 6 south from New Holland and 7 south-east from Barton, with a station at Ulceby junction 2 miles from the village, on the Manchester, Sheffield and Lincolnshire railway, being the junction of the line to Great Grimsby. The church of St. Nicholas is an edifice of stone, in the Decorated and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, clerestoried nave, aisles, lady chapel, north and south porches, and a western tower with spire containing 5 bells: the church was restored and the seats reconstructed in 1852, under the direction of Mr. Keyworth, of Hull: there are memorial windows to the late William David Field esq. placed by the Rev. Henry Fletcher and his wife, of Thornton Curtis, and to the Rev. Wm. Henry Flowers, late vicar, erected by subscription: the south aisle was entirely restored in 1879, and a new south porch built by the vicar, at his own expense, in memory of his wife: a cross, found buried under the floor, has been placed in the church near the chancel arch. The register dates from the year 1567. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £365, including 124 acres of glebe with residence, in the gift of the Lord Chancellor, and held since 1876 by the Rev. William Fletcher D.D. of Brasenose College, Oxford. There are Wesleyan and Primitive Methodists chapels here. Catharine Radley's charity of £5, left September 3rd, 1842, is distributed half-yearly by the vicar. The Earl of Yarborough D.L., J.P. who is lord of the manor, Mrs. Henry Fletcher and William Neale esq. of Kirmington Vale, are the principal landowners. The soil is clay and loam; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley and turnips. The area is 3,610 acres; rateable value, £7,028; the population in 1881 was 1,004.

UPTON-cum-KEXBY is a pleasant parish, watered by the river Till: it comprises the townships of Upton and Kexby, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, Well wapentake, Gainsborough petty sessional division, union and county court district, rural deanery of Corringham, Stow archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln; Upton is 149 miles from London, 5 south-east-by-east from Gainsborough and 2 east-by-north from Lea railway station, on the Great Northern loop line, which joins the main line at Doncaster and Peterborough. All Saints' church, situated on rising ground, is an edifice of stone, in the Norman, Decorated and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, nave, north aisle and a western embattled tower, built about 1776 (the old tower having fallen down) and containing 5 bells: the church was partially rebuilt and substantially repaired in 1867, at a cost of nearly £1,000, under the direction of Mr. Ewan Christian, architect, and the tower was renovated and restored in 1874-5, at a cost of £1,250: the north aisle of two bays, which had hitherto been bricked up, being opened: the chancel was restored in 1880, at a cost of £1,800. The register, including Kexby, dates from 1563. The living is a discharged vicarage, consolidated in 1876 with the discharged rectory of Heapham, joint gross yearly value, from 323 acres of glebe £410 with residence, in the gift of Edward Weston Cracroft-Amcotts esq. J.P. of Hackthorn Hall, and held since 1876 by the Rev. Thomas Brown Vaughan M.A. of St. Catharine's College, Cambridge, The Wesleyans have a chapel here. The charities average about £8 yearly, which amount is derived from two acres of land, situated in the parish; a portion of which was left in 1697, by Francis Hawksmore, and the remainder in 1699, by Francis Eastlands; the land is let yearly, on the 1st of May, to the highest bidder, and the rent is distributed amongst the poor by the overseers.—Sir Charles Henry John Anderson bart. M.A., D.L., J.P. of Lea Hall, Gainsborough, is lord of the manor. The principal landowners are the Misses Dealtry, Lieut.-Col. George Morland Hutton D.L., J.P. of Gate Burton Hall, Gainsborough, and Mr. Robert Senescall; there are a number of small freeholders. The soil is stiff clay and loam; subsoil, clay. The crops are a succession of grain, with a few beans. The area of Upton township is 1,882 acres; rateable value, £1,987; the population in 1881 was 238.

UTTERBY is a village and parish, in the Northern division of the county, parts of Lindsey, wapentake and petty sessional division of Ludborough, Louth union and county court district, rural deanery of Louth Eske and Ludborough No. 1, archdeaconry of Stow and diocese of Lincoln, 4½ miles north-by-west from Louth and 2½ south-south-east from Ludborough station, situated on the road from Louth to Great Grimsby, and to the east of the old Roman road now called Barton Street; below the church runs a stream, over which there is an ancient ribbed arch of the fourteenth century. The church of St. Andrew is a building of stone, in the Decorated and Late Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, nave of three bays, north aisle, south chapel and a tower of three stages, erected about 1340, with a plain parapet and containing 3 bells: the south doorway is well moulded and its jambs are enriched with carvings of an ape bearing away a child and a fox carrying off a goose and a man with a monkey by a string; above it is a rich canopy; the door still retains some excellent iron-work; and in the chancel is a piscina, an aumbry and a statue bracket: some fragments of ancient glass remain in the windows: in the wall of the north aisle is now placed a large slab, in the upper part of which is a very deeply cut elongated quatrefoil enclosing the bust of a priest in chasuble and amice, with his hands conjoined in prayer, and round the slab is an inscription to William de Cumberworth, formerly vicar here, but without date: there are sittings for 140 persons: the lower portion of the churchyard cross remains. The register dates from the year 1695. The living is a rectory, gross yearly value £250, including 5¼ acres of glebe with residence, in the gift of L. Norris esq. and held since 1854 by the Rev. Arthur Robert Pennington M.A. of Trinity College, Cambridge, canon (non-residentiary) of Lincoln and diocesan inspector of schools. Here is a Wesleyan chapel, built in 1846; Free Methodist chapel, built in 1854, and restored in 1883, and a Primitive Methodist chapel, built in 1857. Utterby House, the residence of Mrs. Benson, is a mansion of brick. L. Norris esq. is lord of the manor. The principal landowners are Mrs. Benson, L. Norris esq. and Mrs. Saunders. The soil is loamy; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley and oats. The area is 1,564 acres; rateable value, £2,250; the population in 1881 was 275.

WADDINGHAM is a large parish and village, with the hamlet of BRANDY WHARF, in the Northern division of the county, parts of Lindsey, eastern division and petty sessional division of Manley wapentake Caistor union, county court district of Market Rasen, rural deanery of Corringham, archdeaconry of Stow and diocese of Lincoln, about 2½ miles west from the Ancholme navigation, 4 south-east from Kirton-in Lindsey railway station, 164 from London and 8 south from Brigg. The separate church of St. Peter has long perished. The church of St. Mary and St. Peter is a building of stone, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles, south porch and a tower of Perpendicular date, with crocketed pinnacles, containing 4 bells: the chancel is Early English, and the porch an excellent example of the Early Decorated style: the paten and the chalice are of plain sixteenth century workmanship: the church was restored in 1862, at a cost of £840, defrayed by subscription: the chancel was rebuilt in 1858, at the expense of the Rev. W. W. Berry, a former rector. There are sittings for 220 persons. The register, including Snitterby, dates from the year 1652. The living is a rectory, tithe rent-charge £835, net yearly value £700, including 133 acres of glebe with residence, in the gift of the Crown, and held since 1882 by the Rev. Walter Lancelot Holland B.A. of Corpus Christi college, Cambridge. Here are Wesleyan and Primitive Methodist chapels. The Primitive Methodist chapel, erected in 1859, was enlarged in 1867. There was formerly a Free school, founded and endowed in 1719 by James Tompson of Wadingham, the endowment producing with land £62 yearly, but now handed over to the School Board. The poor's land produces £20 yearly, which is applied to the distribution of fuel to poor widows of the parish. The Marquis of Granby inn, situated in the centre of the village, is an old-established house, replete with every accommodation. Sir Theodore Henry Brinckman bart. D.L. who is lord of the manor, William Skipworth esq. and Philip George Skipwith esq. J.P. of Brick Hill House, Beds. are the principal landowners. The soil is peat, clay and sand; subsoil, limestone. The chief crops are wheat, barley and turnips. The area is 3,720 acres; rateable value, £5,479; the population in 1881 was 715.

Brandy Wharf, on the Ancholme navigation, is 2½ miles east, and 6 south-east from Kirton Lindsey railway station. A considerable business is done here in coals. Mission services are held here in connection with the parish church. Here is a Wesleyan chapel.

WADDINGTON is an extensive village and parish, and station on the Great Northern railway from Grantham to Lincoln, in the Mid division of the county, county of the city of Lincoln, parts of Kesteven, hundred of Boothby Graffoe, union and county court district of Lincoln, rural deanery of Longoboby, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 4 miles south from Lincoln, bounded on the west by the river Witham. The church of St. Michael is a building of stone, in the Transitional and Earlier English styles, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles and a western tower containing 5 bells: the interior exhibits some good work, but has been much disfigured by the rebuilding of the tower within the church about the year 1779, the old tower having then been taken down as dangerous: by this proceeding the nave, originally of three bays, has been reduced to two, the greater part of the westernmost pier, with its capitals, being thus enclosed in the rubble walls of the obtruding tower: in 1867 £500 were expended on the internal repair of the fabric. The register dates from the year 1675. The living is a rectory, gross yearly value £650, derived from the rent of glebe land, with house, in the gift of Lincoln College, Oxford, and held since 1852 by the Rev. George Gresley Perry M.A. late fellow of that college, rural dean of Longoboby and prebendary of Lincoln Cathedral. The rectory was rebuilt in 1857. Here are Wesleyan Methodist and Baptist chapels. Swift's charity of £20 yearly, left by Mr. Swift, of Waddington, is for apprenticing boys of poor parents, and for a dole of bread. Lord Aveland D.L., J.P. is lord of the manor. The principal landowners are the Rev. Oldfeld Kelsall Prescott M.A. of Bournemouth, and Nathaniel Clayton esq. D.L., J.P. of Eastcliff, Lincoln. The chief crops are wheat, arley, oats and turnips. The area is 4,671 acres; rateable value, £6,097; the population in 1881 was 878.

Mere is a parish, in the Mid division of the county, hundred of Boothby Graffoe, parts of Kesteven, union and county court district of Lincoln, 4½ miles south-south-east from Lincoln. At some remote time this was a considerable village, the foundations of buildings, boundaries of yards, with adjacent homesteads, and even the streets and lanes being still distinctly traceable: there is also a mound called "Chapel hill," on which stands a large ruin, possibly of a church. According to the Hundred Rolls, the Knights Templars established themselves here about the year 1200. Here was once an hospital, the funds belonging to which have been regulated by the Court of Chancery, and now serve for the promotion of many useful objects, among which is the payment of £20 yearly each to 12 poor persons of the neighbouring villages: a moiety is given to the Lincoln Diocesan Training College, £120 yearly to increase the stipend of the head master of the Grammar School, and £25 yearly as prizes to students of the same school, and the residue is divided among the Lincoln National Schools. There being no church here, Mr. Mackinder has erected a mission house to hold about 100 persons; one of the students from the Bishop's Hostel in Lincoln preaches on Sunday afternoons. The area is included with Waddington; rateable value, £3,059; the population in 1881 was 78.

WADDINGWORTH is a parish, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, southern division of Gartree wapentake, union, petty sessional division and county court district of Horncastle, rural deanery of Horncastle, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 6 miles north-west from Horncastle. The church of St. Margaret is a very small edifice of stone, in the Gothic style, consisting of chancel and nave, and a belfry containing 1 bell. The register dates from the year 1640, and the registers of Baumber contain entries relating to this and other parishes from 1695 to 1779. The living is a rectory, tithe rent-charge £137; gross yearly value, including 25 acres of glebe, £143, in the gift of the Lord Chancellor, and held since 1843 by the Rev. John Fawssett M.A. of Jesus College, Cambridge, who is also vicar of and resides at Baumber. The poor have the interest of £300, left by Mrs. baker in 1848, and distributed in coals at Christmas. The principal landowners are Miss Trafford, who is lady of the manor, Miss Trafford Southwell and Captain Robert Charles Vyner, of Moat house, Gautby, Horncastle. The soil is strong loam and clay; subsoil, WAINFLEET ALL SAINTS is a small ancient market town and port, station on the Firsby and Skegness branch of the Great Northern railway, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, Marsh division of Candleshoe wapentake, Spilsby petty sessional division, county court district and union, Candleshoe rural deanery No. 2, and Lincoln archdeaconry and diocese, 18 miles north-east from Boston and 10 south-east from Spilsby. The town is pleasantly situated on the banks of the Steeping river, or, as it is called, the Wainfleet haven, which flows to and enters the sea at Gibraltar Point, 5 miles distant, and is navigable for small craft and lighters: the town consists principally of one street, with the market place in the centre; it is lighted with gas. An Act of Parliament for the more effectual drainage of this and neighbouring parishes, was passed 23rd May, 1818. The old church of All Saints, having become ruinous, was taken down in 1820. The present church of All Saints, built in 1820-1, on a site given by the late Colonel Sibthorpe, at a cost of £2,600, and constructed in part from the materials of the former church, and otherwise of brick, is a rectangular edifice in the Perpendicular style, with an arched recess at the east end and an open bell-cot on the western gable, surmounted by an ancient cross, dug up in excavating the new haven in 1821 and containing 1 bell: the fine altar tomb of Richard Patten, erected by his son William, of Wainfleet, was destroyed on the removal of the old church, but the recumbent effigy, figures of angels bearing shields and other fragments are preserved at the old school-house: the president and fellows of Magdalen College have erected in the new church an inscribed marble tablet in lieu of the destroyed tomb. The register, including Northolme, dates from the year 1720. The living is a rectory, tithe rent-charge £411, net yearly value £360, including 21 acres of glebe, in the gift of the Lord Chancellor, and held since 1880 by the Rev. Robert Marshall Heanley B.A. of Queen's College, Oxford, who resides at Northolme hall. There are Wesleyan and Primitive Methodist chapels; in the former, built in 1804 and rebuilt in 1822, marriages are solemnised. The assembly room, built in 1878, is used for lectures and entertainments, and will seat 600 persons. William of Waynflete, Bishop of Winchester and Lord Chancellor of England, a native of this town, was the son of one Richard Patten or Barbour, and was educated at Winchester and Oxford; about 1420 he became master of Winchester school, and was provost of Eton in 1442: in 1458 he founded Magdalen College, Oxford, and in 1459 established a Free school in his native place: he died August 11th, 1486, and was buried in Winchester Cathedral. The master of this school receives a stipend from that college, depending on the number of pupils, and resides in the ancient school-house erected by the founder: this is a rectangular structure of brick, 76ft. by 26ft. two storeys in height: the western end is flanked by two polygonal towers rising considerably above the parapet; and between these is a plain arched doorway, and in the gable a Perpendicular window of four lights: the south tower contains a newel staircase and the north tower a bell: the scheme of instruction comprises Divinity, Classics, Mathematics and the English course: the president and fellows of Magdalen College, Oxford, are the governors: the University Commission of 1881 or 1882 decided that no more than £500 should be set aside for the maintenance of Magdalen College school, Wainfleet, and Magdalen College school, Brackley. The Literary Institute, established in 1858, is self-supporting, and contains a good library of 900 volumes. The Police Station was erected in 1866, at a cost of £600. The Fire Brigade consists of 13 members, who have a manual engine. The charities amount to £26 yearly, for the benefit of the poor; of these the most important are a sum of £12 derived from 4A. 2R. 24P. of land called "the poor's plot"; and £1 19s. 6d. from 2A. 2IP. called "the poor's yard." Rice's charity, left in 1818, produces £4 8s. and by will is given to the poor in meat on February 2nd; 10s. was left by the Rev. Thomas Shaw and other small donors. The market is held on Saturday, and there is a market for fat cattle every alternate Thursday during the summer months. The fairs for cattle are held on the third Saturday in May and October 24th. A foal show and fair is held the first Thursday in August, when upwards of £70 is distributed in prizes. To the north is a barrow. During the construction of the railway from Wainfleet to Firsby a cutting was made through a grass field adjoining the Wainfleet station, bisecting a large mound or barrow situated in it, and exposing to view seven singular graves of a circular form, but widening towards the bottom, and lined with clay worked to a perfectly smooth surface; the spaces around contained cockle and mussel shells, fragments of bone, pottery and burnt earth, and within were other remains of bones and pottery; each grave seems to have had a double clay floor, the uppermost being concave, and three inches in thickness. Charles Thomas Samuel Birch Reynardson esq. D.L. of Holywell, Stamford, is lord of the manor of Wainfleet-cum-Friskney, as lessee under the Duchy of Lancaster. The principal landowners are James Martin esq. and George Wilson Maddison esq. of Partney J.P. The soil is a rich loam clay; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are wheat, beans, oats and potatoes. The parish contains 1,671 acres, principally fen and marsh; rateable value, £5,045; the population in 1881 was 1,349.

Parish Clerk, Isaac Gunson.

Northolme (or WAINFLEET ST. THOMAS) is a small parish, forming a north-east suburb of Wainfleet All Saints, 10 miles south-east from Spilsby, in the Northern division of the county, parts of Lindsey, Marsh division of Candleshoe wapentake, Spilsby union, county court district and petty sessional division. This place is ecclesiastically annexed to Wainfleet All Saints. The church, which was standing in the time of the Protectorate, being then used by the General Baptists, has long since been pulled down; the churchyard is used as a cemetery: the inhabitants attend the church at Wainfleet All Saints. There is a barrow of Danish origin in this parish, and traces of more than one camp. The register is included in that of Wainfleet All Saints. Barton William Barton Powlett esq. is lord of the manor and the principal landowner. The area is 30 acres; rateable value, £304; the population in 1881 was 201.

WAINFLEET ST. MARY is a village and extensive parish, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, in the Marsh division of Candleshoe wapentake, Spilsby petty sessional division, union and county court district, rural deanery of Candleshoe No. 2, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 16 miles north-east from Boston and 1 mile south-west from Wainfleet All Saints station. The church of St. Mary, situated one mile and a half from the village, is a building of brick and stone, in the Early English and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, clerestoried nave, aisles, south porch, and a western tower with plain parapet, containing 6 bells: in the year 1375 the south aisle and porch were restored, at a cost of about £600: the communion table is covered with a crimson velvet cloth, richly embroidered, bearing the arms of Edward Barkham esq. who is interred under the communion table, and to whom there is an inscribed stone in the chancel, dated 1732; Mr. Edward Barkham also erected the classic altar-piece or reredos and presented service books and a communion plate of silver: in the south aisle is a piscina: the carved font is adorned with representations of our Lord's Passion: in 1880 the chancel was restored, at a cost of about £600, and a stained east window was presented by the patron: a mission chapel, St. Michael and All Angels, consisting of apse and nave, was built at the Toft in 1883, through the exertions of the present incumbent. The register dates from the year 1611. The living is a perpetual curacy, gross yearly value £300 with residence, in the gift of the Governors of Bethlehem Hospital, London, and held since 1879 by the Rev. William Elisha Faulkner B.D. of Corpus Christi college, Cambridge. The charities, amounting to about £24 yearly, are derived from several small bequests, and are distributed to the poor. The manor, advowson and a great portion of property were left to the Governors of Bethlehem Hospital, London, in 1782, by Edward Barkham esq. The Governors of Bethlehem Hospital, the Baroness Willoughby WAITHE (or WAITH) is a small parish, on the Louth road and Tetney rivulet, in the Northern division of the county, parts of Lindsey, wapentake and petty sessional division of Bradley Haverstoe, Louth union, county court district of Grimsby, rural deanery of Grimsby No. 2, archdeaconry of Stow and diocese of Lincoln, 5½ miles south-south-east from Great Grimsby and 1 mile south-west from Holton-le-Clay station. The church of St. Martin, an edifice originally of very Early Norman date, was partly rebuilt, with the exception of the tower, in 1869, in the Early English style, after designs by J. Fowler esq. architect, of Louth, at the sole expense of G. H. Haigh esq of Grainsby hall, the cost being upwards of £2,000, the external walls being of stone and the internal face of stone and coloured brick: it consists of an apsidal chancel, south transept, nave of two bays, aisles and a central tower of supposed Saxon date, containing [ ] bells: the nave arcades are those of the old building, thoroughly repaired: the chancel is arcaded all round and pierced with five windows all of which are stained: the columns are of marble, with richly-carved capitals and moulded arches; below this the wall is lined with embossed tiles: the choir occupies the space under the tower. The register dates from the year 1698. The living is a vicarage, gross yearly value £86, including 50 acres of glebe, in the gift of George Henry Haigh esq. D.L., J.P. of Grainsby, and held since 1859 by the Rev. Woodthorpe Johnson M.A. of St. John's College, Cambridge, who is also rector of and resides at Grainsby. The parish is entitled to send one inmate to the almshouses at Ashby-cum-Fenby. George Henry Haigh esq. D.L., J.P. of Grainsby, is lord of the manor and sole landowner. The soil is generally stiff; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are wheat, oats, turnips and barley. This parish is generally farmed on the four-field system. The area is 780 acres; rateable value, £1,042; the population in 1881 was 60.

WALCOT is a pleasant village and parish, in the Southern division of the county, parts of Kesteven, Aveland wapentake, petty sessional division of Bourn, Sleaford union and county court district, rural deanery of Aveland No. 1, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 1½ miles north-west from Falkingham, 4½ miles west-by-north from Billingboro station, 11 east from Grantham and 9 south from Sleaford. The church of St. Nicholas is chiefly of the Decorated period, the nave being Early English, and consists of chancel with chapel, clerestoried nave, aisles and a tower with fine crocketed spire, containing 4 bells: the windows, particularly the east window, are fine: the clerestory is Perpendicular: on the south side in the aisle is an extremely beautiful canopied niche, with buttresses and pinnacles: the chancel has a piscina in a window sill and a priest's door crocketed with oak leaves: a curious oak chest remains in the church and there is in the chantry chapel a piscina with hagioscope above it, and there is some glass in the east window: the carved stalls are good examples of their date. The register dates from the year 1574. The living is a vicarage, gross yearly value from 123 acres of glebe £235, in the gift of Lord Aveland, and held since 1879 by the Rev. William Christopher Houghton B.A. of Corpus Christi college, Cambridge, who resides at Falkingham. The rent of poor's land amounts to £12, which is distributed in coals at Christmas. There are springs of very pure water in this parish, one strongly chalybeate. Lord Aveland P.C., D.L., J.P. who is lord of the manor and impropriator of the great tithes, and Mrs. Ellis, of Maidenhead, are the principal landowners. The soil is clay, loam and gravel; subsoil, chiefly clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley and oats. The area is 1,747 acres; rateable value, £2,431; the population in 1881 was 149.

WALESBY is a parish and village, in the Northern division of the county, parts of Lindsey, south division of the Walshcroft wapentake and petty sessional division, Caistor union, county court district of Market Rasen, rural deanery of Walshcroft, archdeaconry of Stow and diocese of Lincoln, 3 miles north-east from Market Rasen and 7½ south from Caistor. This village gave name originally to the hundred in which it is, and which is described in Domesday book as the "hundred of Walesbi." The church of All Saints, situated on an eminence, is a building of stone in the Transitional, Early English and Decorated styles, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles, south porch and a western tower with pinnacles, containing 3 bells: the north arcade is Transitional (1160-80), the southern Early English, with a credence and piscina in the south wall: the chancel retains its piscina and a fine altar slab, incised with five crosses: a fragment of another slab bears the just decipherable name of "Dominus Johannes de Walesby," and a third is inscribed to Henry Waterland, rector, and father of Daniel Waterland, mentioned below, who died on Good Friday, 22nd April, 1698, aged 58: in a wall near the rectory is a portion of a flat tombstone, and part of a mediæval window: the church being dilapidated and very inconveniently situated, a temporary iron church has been erected in the village to hold 140 persons, and is licensed by the bishop for divine worship until the restoration or rebuilding, on a new site, of the parish church. The register dates from the year 1562. The living is a rectory, tithe rent-charge £626, with Risby annexed, joint gross yearly income £840, with residence, including 72 acres of glebe at Walesby, in the gift of William Angerstein esq. and held since 1879 by the Rev. Perceval Laurence M.A. of Trinity College, Cambridge. In the old rectory house was born Feb. 14, 1683, Daniel Waterland D.D. Master of Magdalene College, Cambridge, 1713, Chancellor of York, 1723, and Canon of Windsor, 1727: he became vicar of Twickenham and Archdeacon of Middlesex in 1730, and died December, 1740: his critical "History of the Athanasian Creed" has long been a standard work. The tithes were apportioned in 1847 at £570, since which the hamlet of Risby has become titheable, and apportioned at £150. In 1861 the remains of a Roman villa were discovered here by the Rev. W. B. Philpot M.A. rector of Walesby (1852-65), on the property of W. Angerstein esq.; the residence apparently occupied an area of about 100 square yards, and the portions excavated consisted of several hypocaustal chambers with flues &c. and an abundance of wood ashes, and about 90 yards south-west, a solid foundation wall, 60 feet in length, some broken jars of Samian and Durobrivian ware, a bronze fibula, a stone chisel, an iron fork, several spindle whirls, bones of oxen, sheep and deer, and quantities of oyster shells, were found in an ash-pit about 20 feet deep; close by three fragments of hand mills were dug up, and there was also a square bath with a long drain. William Angerstein esq. of Weeting Hall, Brandon, Norfolk, is lord of the manor and sole landowner. The old manor house is now represented only by part of an old wall, built into a wheelwright's house, and portions of the fosse which surrounded it. The soil is various; subsoil, clay, sand and chalk. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats and turnips. The area, including Risby and Otby, is 3,592 acres; rateable value, £3,994; the population in 1881 was 322.

Risby is one mile south-east and Otby one mile north.

WALMSGATE is a parish, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, Hill hundred and petty sessional division, Louth union and county court district, 6¾ miles south-east from Louth, 8 north-west from Alford and 3½ south-west from Authorpe station on the East Lincolnshire railway. The church was destroyed many years ago, but the site can still be traced. The register is included in that of Burwell. The living is a chapelry, annexed to the rectory of Mnckton and the vicarage of Burwell, the church of which latter parish is used by the inhabitants of Walmsgate. Walmsgate Hall, the seat of Thomas Yorke Dallas-Yorke esq. D.L., J.P. is a handsome modern mansion, surrounded by trees, pleasantly situated on an eminence of the Wolds, commanding some extensive views of the surrounding country. Thomas Yorke Dallas-Yorke esq. D.L., J.P. who is lord of the manor, and Wastel Briscoe esq. are the principal landowners. The soil is clay and chalk; subsoil, chalk. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats, beans and turnips. The area is 920 acres; rateable value, £953; the population in 1881 was 73.

WALTHAM is a parish, large village, with a station 1½ miles north-east from the village, on the East Lincolnshire railway, within the parliamentary borough of Great Grimsby, in the Northern division of the county parts of Lindsey, Bradley Haverstoe wapentake and petty sessional division, Caistor union, county court district of Grimsby, rural deanery of Grimsby No. 2, archdeaconry of Stow and diocese of Lincoln, 152 miles from London, and 3½ south from Great Grimsby. The church of All Saints is an ancient fabric of the Early English period, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles and a tower with parapet of later date, containing 3 bells: the church was thoroughly restored in 1867 and 1874, when the building was new roofed, with a groined ceiling, and reseated; a vestry was also erected on the north side of the chancel, on the site of the former one: the ancient sedilia and double piscina remain on the south side of the chancel and there are other piscinæ at the east end of both aisles: the stained east window is a memorial to the Rev. Thomas Still Basnett, 23 years rector of Waltham, who died February 13, 1865; and to Mrs. Elizabeth Whelpton, late of this parish, who died 11th December, 1859: the tower had originally a groined stone ceiling, which was replaced by a similar one of wood, owing to the insecurity of one of the angles: in 1867, a slab was found in the nave with effigies of Johanna Waltham (who died March 27, 1420) and her son and daughter: in 1849 an inscribed brass, cracked in half and loosened from the stone, was discovered under the boards of a pew in the north aisle, bearing the legend:—"Hic jacent Johannes et Margareta uxor ejus quondam pater et mater Johannis Waltham, Sarum Episcopi quorum animabus propicietur Deus. Amen." John Waltham, whose parents are buried here, was master of the Rolls in 1382, consecrated twenty-sixth Bishop of Sarum in 1388, afterwards Keeper of the Privy Seal and Lord High Treasurer of England, and died in 1395: the King, Richard II. "mortem ejus gravissime tulit, et in amoris testimonium" commanded the body of John de Waltham to be interred near the tomb of King Edward I. in Westminster Abbey: no record of his parentage or place of birth was known to exist before the accidental discovery of this brass: the north aisle was rebuilt in 1873 by Bushell Anningson esq. at a cost of nearly £300. There are sittings for 300 persons. The register dates from the year 1561. The living is a rectory, gross yearly value from 380 acres of glebe, £550 with residence, in the gift of the Crown, and held since 1865 by the Rev. John Ash Gaussen M.A. of Trinity College, Dublin J.P. The rectory house, rebuilt in 1836, is a large mansion in the Elizabethan style. Here are Wesleyan and Primitive Methodist chapels; and a Temperance Hall, capable of holding 200 persons. Waltham Grove is the property of Peter Kerslake Seddon esq. J.P. Lieut.-Col. of 1st Volunteer Battalion of the Lincolnshire Regiment. Bushell Anningson esq. is lord of the manor. William Henry Parkinson esq. Col. George Tomline D.L., J.P. of Riby, Miss Phillipson and Lieut.-Col. P. K. Seddon, are principal landowners. The soil is clay and silt; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats, turnips and seeds. The area is 2,464 acres; rateable value, £4,663; the population in 1881 was 704.

WASHINGBOROUGH is a large village, parish and station on the Lincoln and Boston railway, situated on the south bank of the navigable river Witham, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Kesteven, the second division of Langoe wapentake, union and county court district of Lincoln, rural deanery of Longoboby, archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 3 miles east from Lincoln. The church of St. John the Evangelist is a large and handsome building of stone, partly in the Norman style, comprising chancel, nave, aisles and western tower, containing a clock and 6 bells: in 1859 this church was thoroughly restored, chiefly at the expense of the late Rev. H. W. Sibthorpe, then rector, to whom a memorial window has been placed in this church: the nave and south aisle were then new roofed and the church generally repaired and refitted: there is another stained window erected by the present rector to his mother; and several more have been placed as memorials to Mrs. Coupland, Mr. Jaques and to the Rudgard family, Mr. W. Pearson, late carrier of Washingborough, by his widow, and one by the rector to an old servant: the font is a fine example of Norman work. The register, including Heighington, dates from the year 1565. The living is a rectory, with Heighington annexed, joint yearly value £1,300 with residence, in the gift of and held since 1866 by the Rev. John Dudding LL.M. of Trinity Hall, Cambridge. The Free Methodist chapel, erected in 1857, is now used as a Sunday school. A new chapel was built in 1882. The poor of Washingborough and Heighington have about £120 a year distributed amongst them, derived from a farm, and consols left by Sir Edward Clarke; they have also rentcharges amounting to about £120, left in 1701 by Sir Edward Clarke, for the purpose of apprenticing boys belonging to the parish of Washingborough and township of Heighington, £5 of which is paid to the master of Heighington school. There are other charitable donations, amounting to about £10, which are distributed to the poor in bread. Richard Coupland Bergne-Coupland esq. D.L., J.P. of Skellingthorpe Hall, Lincoln, who is lord of the manor, the Sibthorp family, the rector and Messrs. Rudgard, are the principal landowners. The soil is loamy; subsoil, limestone. The chief crops are wheat, oats and barley. The area of the parish is 4,791 acres and of Washingborough only 2,320; rateable value, £8,143, and with Heighington, £13,557; the population in 1881 was—of the township 729, and that of the parish 1,476. Heighington will be found under a separate heading.

WELBOURNE is a village and parish, situate on the Cliff road, extending westward to the river Brant and eastward to the Roman road, Ermine street, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Kesteven, Higher division of Boothby Graffoe wapentake, Sleaford petty sessional division, union and county court district, rural deanery of Longoboby, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, one mile north from the Leadenham station of the Great Northern railway, Lincoln and Grantham line, and 12 miles south from Lincoln. The church of St. Chad is a handsome building of stone, in the Early English, Late Decorated and Perpendicular styles, consisting of modern chancel, clerestoried nave, aisles, south porch and a western tower, with a richly crocketed spire, supported by flying buttresses: the tower is quite plain, with four pinnacles, and contains 4 bells: the most attractive feature of the church is the south porch, which has canopied and crocketed buttresses, and is of excellent design; the chancel was rebuilt in 1854: the church is in need of restoration. The register dates from the year 1561. The living is a rectory, gross yearly value £550 including 236 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of trustees of the late Hon. A. L. Melville, and held since 1867 by the Rev. Frederick Abel Leslie Melville M.A. of Trinity College, Cambridge. There is a Wesleyan chapel here, built in 1839. The manor house is the seat of William Rollison esq. who is lord of the manor. The principal landowners are Lieut.-Col. John Reeve D.L., J.P. of Leadenham house, Grantham, Ralph Henry Christopher Nevile esq. J.P., D.L. of Wellingore Hall, Grantham, and Messrs. E. Burtt and Richard Rossington. The soil is a fine strong loam, heath and stiff clay; subsoil, shale and clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley, turnips and seeds. The area is 3,270 acres; rateable value, £5,720; the population in 1881 was 550.

WELBY is a parish, in the Southern division of the county, parts of Kesteven, in Winnibriggs and Threo wapentake, Spittlegate petty sessional division, Grantham union and county court district, rural deanery of Grantham north, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln. The village is pleasantly situated in a vale 4½ miles east-by-north from Grantham. The church of St. Bartholomew is a fine building of stone in the Early English and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, clerestoried nave of four bays, north aisle and a tower with broach spire containing 3 bells: in 1873 the chancel was rebuilt and the north aisle extended, at a cost of about £450: an organ was erected at the same time, at a cost of £140. The register dates from the year 1569. The living is a rectory, gross yearly value £650, in the gift of the Bishop of Lincoln, and held since 1867 by the Rev. William Armetriding Frith M.A. of Worcester College, Oxford. Here is a Wesleyan chapel, erected in 1866. A school and four almshouses, for as many poor persons, were founded in 1780 by William Welby esq. who, by his will, recommended his son, the late Sir W. E. Welby and the succeeding lords of the Denton estate, to pay £10 yearly to the schoolmaster for teaching 12 poor children of Welby: the Rev. William Dodwell, in 1824, bequeathed to this parish £1,608 11s. 6d. £3 per Cent. Bank Annuities for the benefit of the poor: the yearly dividend is dispensed as follows: £15 to the schoolmaster for the education of six boys and six girls; £10 for apprenticing a poor boy; and the remainder is distributed in clothing to the poor parishioners. Sir William Earle Welby-Gregory bart. D.L., J.P. of Denton Hall, is lord of the manor and owner of the soil. The soil is creech land; subsoil, stony. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats and turnips. The area is 2,661 acres; rateable value, £3,358; the population in 1881 was 390.

WELL is a pleasant village and parish, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, Wold division of the hundred of Calceworth, Alford petty sessional division, Spilsby union and county court district, rural deanery of Calceworth No. 2, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, one mile and a half south-by-west from Alford station and 132 from London. The church of St Margaret, situated on a woody eminence in Well Vale park, is a structure of brick, in a Modern Classic style, and has 1 bell. The register dates from the year 1649. The living is a discharged rectory, consolidated with the vicarage of Claxby, tithe rent-charge £409, joint gross yearly value £450 including 22 acres of glebe, in the gift of Miss Constance Nisbet-Hamilton, and held since 1852 by the Rev. Richard Parker M.A. of Corpus Christi college, Cambridge, who resides at Claxby. A fine spring rises within the parish and discharges itself into the sea at Anderby Creek. Near here, in 1725, two urns were found, containing some hundreds of Roman coins. Well Vale, formerly the seat of the Dashwood family, was purchased by Robert Adam Christopher esq. and is now the residence of P. A. Bentley esq.: it is a spacious mansion, delightfully situated in a romantic and well-wooded valley and surrounded by a park of 170 acres, which contains a lake. Miss Constance Nisbet-Hamilton is lady of the manor and sole landowner. The soil is clay and marl; subsoil, same. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats and turnips. The area is 1,566A. 1R. 23P.; rateable value, £1,788; the population in 1881 was 124.

WELLINGORE, anciently Willingore, i.e. the Highland (A.-S.) Ofer, on which the Wealingas or Welle family settled, is a large and populous village and parish, pleasantly situated on the Cliff road, commanding extensive views of the surrounding country: it is in the Mid division of the county, parts of Kesteven, Higher division of Boothby Graffoe wapentake, Sleaford union, county court district and petty sessional division, rural deanery of Longoboby, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 10 miles south from Lincoln, one mile and a half south from Navenby station and 10 miles north-west from Sleaford. The church of All Saints, erected in the thirteenth century, is a small building of the Transitional, Early and Late Decorated and Perpendicular periods, consisting of chancel, clerestoried nave, aisles, porch and a western tower with stunted spire, containing 3 bells, each of which has an inscription; the earliest dates from the fifteenth century and the others from 1613 and 1787 respectively: the chancel retains Transitional piscina and Norman sedilia in good preservation (c. 1160) and has a low window on the south side; the benches have good poppy head ends: the font is a curious example of coarse Rectilinear work: in the north aisle is an altar-tomb with the alabaster effigies of a knight in armour and his lady, supposed to represent Richard de Busiingthorpe and Isabella (St. George), his wife, through whom he acquired the manor of Wellingore: there is a mural monument to one of the Wingfields, 1575, and a brass to a member of the Ellis family, 1637: the church was restored and enlarged by the vestry in 1878, probably on site of an older church. The register dates from the year 1653, and mentions the Fire of London, 1666, and the "extirpation" by a hurricane of Boothby church the same year. The churchwardens' accounts go back to 1660, and have some curious entries. The living is a discharged vicarage, net yearly value £206 with residence, and including about 103 acres of glebe land, in the gift and peculiar jurisdiction of the Dean and Chapter of Lincoln, and held since 1877 by the Rev. John Fernie M.A. of Emmanuel College, Cambridge. The Dean and Chapter of Lincoln are appropriators of the rectory and hold 472 acres of land, allotted at the enclosure in lieu of the great tithes. Here is a Wesleyan chapel. The poor have a yearly rent-charge of £4, and the interest of £20 bequeathed to them in 1654 by the late Edmund Ellis esq. In the centre of the village are some remains of an ancient cross of the fourteenth century. Hill House is the residence of Robinson Hilton esq. and commands a fine view of the adjacent country. The Hall, the seat of Ralph Henry Christopher Nevile esq. D.L., J.P. is a large mansion pleasantly situated. The handsome Catholic chapel, attached to The Hall, was burnt down on Sunday afternoon, June 22nd, 1884: it had been erected two or three years previously, at a cost of about £7,000, and a splendid organ was placed therein, which cost 800 guineas: the public were allowed access to the chapel, and a short service had been held there in the morning. The principal landowners are Ralph Henry Christopher Nevile esq. J.P. who is lord of the manor, and Lt.-Col. John Reeve D.L., J.P. of Leadenham House, Grantham. The soil is a light loam; subsoil, shale. The chief crops are wheat, barley, turnips and seeds. The area is 2,964 acres; rateable value, £5,787; the population in 1881 was 790.

WELTON-by-LINCOLN is a large village and parish, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, Lawress wapentake, union and county court district of Lincoln, rural deanery of Lawress No. 1, archdeaconry of Stow and diocese of Lincoln, 6 miles north-north-east from Lincoln and 3¾ miles from Snelland station on the Manchester, Sheffield and Lincolnshire Railway The church of St. Mary is a building in the Early English and Decorated styles and consists of chancel, nave, aisles and an embattled western tower with pinnacles; the nave was reseated and the gallery removed in the year 1876; there are three stained windows in the chancel, besides several memorial windows. There are sittings for 250 persons. The register of baptisms dates from the year 1562; marriages, 1568; burials, 1575. The living is a vicarage, gross yearly value £400, from 269 acres of glebe, in the gift of the Bishop of Lincoln and the lessees of the Prebendaries of Welton Westhall, Welton Beckhall and Welton Rivall, and held since 1882 by the Rev. William De Foe Baker M.A. of Emmanuel College, Cambridge. In 1863 a number of very early graves, supposed to be Saxon, were discovered here on the site of an old chapel cemetery. Here are Wesleyan, Primitive Methodist and Reformed Wesleyan chapels. The parish was entitled to send 11 boys to the Blue Coat school, or Christ's Hospital, in Lincoln, originally founded by Dr. Smith, of Welton, who were fed, clothed and apprenticed from the Hospital funds. By the new scheme of the Charity Commissioners for Christ's Hospital School four exhibitions of £25 yearly will be open to scholars of Welton elementary school and tenable at the Lincoln Middle School; the amount of each exhibition is to be applied, first to the payment of tuition fees, then for his maintenance and benefit; also under the same scheme the sum of £50 yearly is to be paid to the Welton Christ's Hospital endowment fund and under the Welton scheme is to be applied by the Governors as follows:—£10 in maintaining scholarships each of not less than £1 yearly, tenable at the parish elementary school and to be awarded in equal shares to boys and girls who are and have been for at least three years in such school, £40, in maintaining two exhibitions of £20 each yearly, tenable for four years at any place of education, higher than elementary, approved by the Governors, to be awarded to girls who are and have been for at least three years in the Welton elementary school: the school does not, however, receive the full benefit of this scheme until such time as the pensions, now payable to the late masters of the Blue Coat school, cease to be paid. The Countess of Warwick left £10 yearly to the vicar of Welton for delivering a lecture in the church every Sunday evening. The poor of the parish have about £34 distributed amongst them yearly in clothes or money, from Cust's, Camm's and other charities. The Prebendaries and Ernest Richard Charles Cust esq. D.L. of Arthingworth, Northants, are the lords of the manor. Ernest Richard Charles Cust esq. D.L. Edward Weston Cracroft-Amcotts esq. of Hackthorn and Mrs. Westall are the principal landowners. The soil is loamy; subsoil, oolite in the upper, clay in the lower part of the parish. The chief crops are wheat, barley and oats. The area is 3,751 acres; rateable value, £5,381; the population in 1881 was 682.

RYLAND is a hamlet, half a mile north-east.

WELTON-IN-THE-MARSH is a village and parish, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, Wold division of the Candleshoe wapentake, Spilsby petty sessional division, union and county court district, Candleshoe rural deanery No. 1, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 6 miles east-north-east from Spilsby, 2 north from Burgh station, on the East Lincolnshire branch of the Great Northern railway which passes through the parish. The church of St. Andrew, erected in 1792, is a building of stone and brick, consisting of chancel, nave and a massive western tower with four pinnacles and containing 1 bell. The register dates from the year 1558. The living is a vicarage, consolidated with Gunby St. Peter, tithe rent-charge £145, joint gross yearly value £330, including 133 acres of glebe, with residence, in the gift of C. L. Massingberd esq. J.P. and held since 1871 by the Rev. William Maxwell Smith. There is a Congregational chapel and a Wesleyan Methodist chapel, rebuilt in 1874. In 1726 Mr. Thomas Ingram left a yearly rent-charge of 10s. which is distributed annually at Easter in bread among the poor parishioners. The poor's allotments, awarded at the enclosure, comprise nearly 5 acres, which are occupied by 34 labourers, rent free. Lime is burnt here. The Baroness Willoughby de Eresby, who is lady of the manor, the Rev. Richard George Walls M.A., J.P. rector of Firsby and Great Steeping, and Charles Langton Massingberd esq. J.P. of Gunby, are the principal landowners. The soil is mostly clay; subsoil, clay and a little chalk. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats and turnips. The area is 2,600 acres; rateable value, £3,339; the population in 1881 was 375

BOOTHBY is a small hamlet, about a mile east. The Rev Richard George Walls M.A., J.P. has a pleasant seat here, called Boothby Hall, in the grounds of which is a small lake.

WESTON (or WESTON ST. MARY) is a pleasant village and parish, with a station on the Great Northern railway, 1½ miles south from the village, on the road midway between Spalding and Holbeach, 4 miles east from the former and 4 west from the latter and 97 from London, in the Southern division of the county, parts of Holland, wapentake of Elloe, union and county court district of Spalding, rural deanery of West Elloe, archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln: it is bounded by the river Welland on the north-west. The church of St. Mary is a cruciform building, in the Transition, Early English, and Later styles, consisting of chancel, nave of five bays, aisles, transepts, south porch and a western tower in the Perpendicular style, with embattled parapet and crocketed pinnacles at the angles and containing 3 bells: the chancel is pure and very good Early English, arcaded on either side, and has three lancets and four slender buttresses at tha east end, the date of erection being about 1286: there is a piscina in the south wall: the transept and aisles are Decorated, circ. 1350, and the tower was added circ. 1420: the font is Transitional, probably that of the foundation: the lancet windows in the chancel and others in the church are stained, as memorials of Walter Maurice Johnson, twenty-eight years vicar of the parish, and others: the church was partially restored in 1858, and in 1863 a new roof was placed over the chancel, from designs by the late Sir Gilbert Scott R.A.: there are sittings for 450 persons. The register dates from the year 1678. The living is a vicarage, established in 1286, tithe rent-charge £163, gross yearly value £300 with residence and 1¼ acres of glebe, in the gift of the Lord Chancellor, and held since 1876 by the Rev. Edward Manners Sanderson M.A. of Trinity College, Cambridge. A vicarage house was erected in the year 1867, and is situated near to the church: the great or rectorial tithes, £970, are the property of Mrs. Harvey, of Spalding. There are three chapels, two for Free Methodists and one for Primitive Methodists. The National school at Weston Hills is used as a Mission house on Sundays. The charities amount to about £80 yearly, arising chiefly from land, and are distributed in money twice a year. There is also a dole of coal distributed by the vicar and churchwardens from money left by the late Misses Johnson, of Spalding. The lords of the manors are—the trustees of the late Maurice Johnson esq. lords of Spalding with its members; steward, C. F. Bonner esq. Spalding: Lord Boston, who is lord of Moulton Fitzwalter and a moiety of Dominorum; steward, C. F. Bonner esq. Spalding: and Edward Westwood esq. lord of Moulton Harington and a moiety of Dominorum; steward, George Bradley esq. Castleford, Yorkshire. The principal landowners are the Duke of Somerset K.G. Lord Kesteven, the Rev. Edmund Davys M.A. of West End, Hampstead N. Messrs. H. Everard, Henry Hawkes, Joseph Campain, T. Seawell, R. Mawby, Alexander Goodman, William Gedney and the trustees of the late Isaac Teesdale and T. B. Buckworth esqrs. The soil is rich; subsoil, silt and clay. The chief crops are wheat, beans, oats, barley, potatoes and pasturage. The area

WHAPLODE is a large scattered village and parish, and station on the Spalding and Norwich railway, in the Southern division of the county, parts of Holland, wapentake of Elloe, Holbeach union and county court district, rural deanery of East Elloe, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 2 miles west from Holbeach, and 6 east from Spalding, on the road from Holbeach to Spalding. The church of St. Mary is a building of the Norman, Transitional, Earlier English, Late Decorated and Perpendicular periods, consisting of a chancel, clerestoried nave with seven bays, aisles, north transept, north and south porches and a south-east tower containing 5 bells: the chancel arch and four bays of the nave remain, the rest of the nave, including the west front, being Transitional: the clerestory of the nave west of the tower, displays a circular-headed arcading, pierced at intervals by a plain window of like form; the nave has a total length of 110 feet, its chief feature being the west doorway, which exhibits a fine series of mouldings in four orders: the tower, unusually placed on the south side of the easternmost compartment of the south aisle, is a lofty and very striking object: it is four stages in height, of which the three lowest, belonging to the original design, are arcaded: the belfry storey has coupled windows in each face, and above is an embattled parapet with four short pinnacles and vanes: in the south aisle is a fine altar tomb of stone, bearing the recumbent effigies of Sir Anthony Irby, 1593, and Alice his wife, 1625: on the base of the tomb are the figures of five children kneeling, and above rises a canopy supported on ten columns of the Composite order, and adorned with shields of arms: a new pulpit, from a design by Mr. Fowler, was set up in 1854: Roman pottery has been met with in the churchyard. There are sittings for 500 persons. The register dates from the year 1559. The living is a vicarage, tithe rent-charge £550, net yearly value £468, including 2 acres of glebe with residence, in the gift of the Lord Chancellor, and held since 1883 by the Rev. John Collin M.A. of Emmanuel College, Cambridge. The great tithes belong to Oakham and Uppingham schools, and were commuted in 1843 for £1,600. Here are Wesleyan and Primitive Methodist chapels. Almshouses for six poor widows were built by an ancestor of Lord Boston: two of these receive 10d. a week from a charity left by Sir Anthony Irby. There are also charities of £4 and £2 respectively arising from a charge on the impropriators of the great tithes, and a rent charge on lands called "Haltofts." Also a rent-charge of £2 12s. left by Erasmus Amy to be distributed in bread yearly among the poor. Irby hall, now a farmhouse, was anciently a seat of the knightly family of Irby. At the foundation of Croyland Abbey, A.D. 948, the manor of Whaplode was given to that monastry. The manors are Whaplode Abbots, St. John of Jerusalem, Whaplode Hagbeach, Whaplode Kirk-fee, Whaplode Knevits, and Whaplode Pipewell, the manorial rights in all of which have become merged in the freehold. The Crown and the Duke of Somerset K.G. are the principal landowners. There are numerous other smaller proprietors. The soil is light loam and clay; subsoil, silt. The chief crops are wheat, beans, peas and roots. There are 10,164 acres, including Whaplode Drove; rateable value, £18,605; the population in 1881 was 2,375, including Whaplode Drove 783, for which see separate heading.

WHITTON is a parish and small village on the Humber, in the Northern division of the county, parts of Lindsey, north division of Manley wapentake, Glanford Brigg union, Barton-upon-Humber county court district, rural deanery of Manlake, archdeaconry of Stow and diocese of Lincoln, 3 miles below Trent Falls, 8 north from Frodingham station, 5 north from Winterton, 12 west from Barton, and 15 north-west from Brigg. Here is a ferry across the Humber to Brough. During the year 1868 a pier, 200 yards in length, was opened, at which the steamboats to and from Gainsborough, Goole and Hull call daily. The church of St. John is a building of stone, in the Norman style, and consists of nave, porch and a small ivy-mantled tower containing 3 bells, and was re-seated in 1865, at the sole expense of Lady Strickland: the third bell was brought from Welton, Yorkshire: the font which is very old, stands in the porch, which is also used as the vestry. The register dates from the year 1546, but is in a bad state and illegible. The living is a vicarage, gross joint yearly value £299, including 126 acres of glebe with house, united with that of Alkborough, tithe-rent charge £12, in the alternate gift of the Bishop of Lincoln and J. Goulton Constable esq. J.P. of Walcot hall, Doncaster, and held since 1883 by the Rev. Benjamin Hunter B.A. of London University. In the river near here is a dangerous sandbank called "Whitton Middle." James Goulton Constable esq. J.P. is lord of the manor and principal landowner. The soil is principally gravel; subsoil, partly clay and gravel. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats, potatoes and beans. The area is 1,330 acres of land and 1,110 of water; rateable value, £1,874 5s.; the population in 1881 was 201.

WIGTOFT is a parish, in the Southern division of the county, parts of Holland, in Kirton wapentake, Boston union and county court district, rural deanery of North Holland No. 1, archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 3 miles south-east-by-south from Swineshead, 2 north-west from Algarkirk station and 7 south-west-by-south from Boston. The church of SS. Peter and Paul is an ancient building of stone, in the Norman, Early English, Decorated and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, clerestoried nave of four bays, aisles, south porch and a tower with small spire containing 5 bells: the oldest portion of this church is a richly ornamented Late Norman window in the western face of the tower: the porch exhibits portions of Norman and later work: the nave and aisles belong to the first half of the fourteenth century: the lower part of the tower is Early English, but the upper stage and angle turret are Perpendicular, and to this period also belong the chancel and clerestory: portions of a lofty Perpendicular rood screen exist, as well as the entrance to the rood loft, and there is a good Jacobean pulpit; in the south aisle is a piscina, and some fragments of old glass, including a quartered shield of France and England, two dragons and a lion's head, jessant de lis, remain in the windows: in the chancel are two chairs, partially constructed from old carved bench ends. There was formerly a very valuable book of churchwardens accounts belonging to this church, 1484-1631; which having been stolen, was left to decay; its contents had, however, been printed in Mr. John Nicholls' "Antient Manners in England," published in 1797, pp. 77-87; 195-230. The register dates from the year 1618. The living is a vicarage, gross yearly value £300 with residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Lincoln, and held since 1870 by the Rev. Joseph Heath M.A. of Corpus Christi college, Cambridge, J.P. Here is a Wesleyan chapel. There are several charities connected with this parish, amounting to £48 yearly for distribution, the most important being the Blisbury gift. The principal landowners are the Earl Brownlow, lord lieut. J.P. Henry Chaplin esq. M.P., D.L., J.P. of Blankney hall, Sleaford, who is lord of the manor, and Messrs. John George Holland, John West, and there are many small freeholders. The soil is loam; subsoil, loam and clay. The chief crops are wheat, beans, potatoes, with a great portion of rich pasture land. The area is 3,300 acres; rateable value, £5,293; the population in 1881 was 672.

BURTOFT 1 mile south, and HOFTLET STOW about 1 mile west are hamlets. The portion of the Fen allotted to this parish at the enclosure is 7 miles north from the church.

DRAINAGE MARSH, formerly extra-parochial, is now a parish in Boston union, it consists of one farm of 45 acres, of the rateable value of £58.

Letters by foot post through Spalding, arrive at 8 a.m.; dispatched at 5 p.m. The nearest money order & telegraph office is at Sutterton

This parish is contributory to Kirton School Board, electing 1 member

Free School, founded in 1835, rebuilt in 1830 by subscription; it is endowed with £40 yearly, called the Blisbury Charity; there are now 90 scholars, of whom 18 are taught free; the school is under the supervision of the Vicar; Daniel Parker Primrose, master

CHERRY WILLINGHAM is a small village and parish, on the northern side of the river Witham, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, Lawress wapentake, Lincoln union and county court district, rural deanery of Lawress No. 1, archdeaconry of Stow and diocese of Lincoln, 3 miles east from Lincoln and 1 mile north-east from Washingborough station, on the Lincoln and Boston railway and 1½ south-west from Reepham station on the Manchester, Sheffield and Lincolnshire railway. The church of St. Peter is a small building of freestone, in the Classic style, erected by Thomas Beeke esq. and restored in 1869 by Mr. John Glen Bayles, who also presented an organ and eagle lectern: there is a memorial in the church to the founder, one to the Rev. George Rigg, late vicar and several to the Hutton family. The register dates from the year 1700. The living is a vicarage, tithe rent-charge £100, net yearly value £130, including glebe, in the gift of Messrs. Boast and Harrison and held since 1882 by the Rev. Edwin Richard Kemp, who resides at St. Ann's ledge, adjoining the Bede house, Lincoln. The Wesleyans have a chapel here. Lord Aveland D.L., J.P. is lord of the manor and principal landowner. The Rev. George Rigg left £50 upon trust to the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, in the year 1868, the interest of which is to provide bibles and prayer books for the poor. About 1847 the late William Ellis esq. left £100, which has been invested in £3 per Consols, the interest of which is for the poor parishioners, to be distributed yearly at Christmas by the churchwardens. The soil is loamy; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley and oats. The area is 1,091 acres; rateable value, £1,854; the population in 1881 was 156.

WILLOUGHBY is a station on the East Lincolnshire branch of the Great Northern railway, pleasant village and parish, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, Wold division of the hundred of Calceworth No. 2, Alford petty sessional division, Spilsby union and county court district, rural deanery of Calceworth, archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 128 miles from London, 3 south-by-east from Alford and 8 north-east from Spilsby. The church of St. Helen is a building of sandstone, in the Perpendicular style, consisting of lofty chancel, nave, aisles, large south porch and a massive western tower with four pinnacles and containing 6 bells and a clock: in the church is an inscribed stone to Gilbert West, 1404, and another stone with the bust of a man in low-relief: in 1856 the interior was thoroughly restored, and a stained window erected in the chancel, and a new organ introduced: the nave was restored and the chancel rebuilt in 1878-9. The register dates from the year 1538. The living is a rectory, tithe rent-charge £1,034, net yearly value £900, including 47 acres of glebe, with residence, in the gift of the Baroness Willoughby de Eresby, and held since 1851 by the Rev. John Shrapnel Warren M.A., J.P. of St. Catharine's College, Cambridge, J.P. The rectory, rebuilt in 1876, is a handsome house, surrounded by a moat, and pleasantly situated near the church. The Wesleyan Methodists have a chapel here. The Rev. Anthony Barnes, a former rector, bequeathed £10 yearly for apprenticing poor boys belonging to Willoughby, and £4, now increased to £6, to be distributed yearly amongst the poor in boots and shoes. This was formerly a Roman station, and to the west is a large camp. The Baroness Willoughby de Eresby is lady of the manor: the family took their name from this parish, but derived their title from Eresby, near Spilsby. The principal landowners are the Baroness Willoughby de Eresby, the president and fellows of Magdalene College, Cambridge, and Miss Constance Nisbet-Hamilton. The soil is heavy loam; subsoil, clay

SILK-WILLOUGHBY (or SILKBY-CUM-WILLOUGHBY) is a parish and small village, on the high road from Sleaford to Falkingham, in the Southern division of the county, parts of Kesteven, Aswardhurn wapentake, Sleaford petty sessional division, county court district and union, rural deanery of Aswardhurn with Lafford No. 2, archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 2 miles south from Sleaford, 7 north from Falkingham and 12 north-east from Grantham. The church of St. Denis is a fine old building of stone, in the Norman, Late Decorated and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles, south porch and a western embattled tower with spire containing 3 bells: the edifice, with the exception of the chancel, which is Perpendicular, belongs wholly to the Late Decorated or Curvilinear period (1315 60): the tower has canopied buttresses, a pierced parapet of flowing tracery and four plain pinnacles, connected by light flying buttresses to the spire, which is enriched with two rows of small louvre windows: the chancel retains groined sedilia and a very good Early Perpendicular traceried rood-screen: in the nave are some excellent oak benches with panelled ends: the chancel was rebuilt in 1878 by the Rev. J. M. Mason, late rector, and is now fitted with carved oak stalls: in rebuilding the chancel fragments of the tomb of William Arymn (1361) were found, which have been placed before the font; the latter, a beautiful Norman work, has been replaced in its original position under the tower arch. The register dates from the year 1559. The living is a rectory, tithe rent-charge £625, gross yearly value £652, including 11½ acres of glebe and house, in the gift of the Earl of Dysart, and held since 1879 by the Rev. William Henry Edward McKnight B.A. of Trinity College, Dublin. At the junction of the two ancient parishes of Silkby and Willoughby stands an ancient font of the same date as the church, which has lately been replaced on a new base; the symbols of the four Evangelists are carved on the base. Dame Margaret Thorold, of Syston, near Grantham, left in the year 1718, £10 yearly for the poor, arising from 30 acres of land in the parish; the new scheme lately issued by the Charity Commissioners assigns £10 yearly to the poor of the parish, to be distributed at the discretion of the churchwardens, and it is given in coals at Christmas; the remainder of the charity is applied to the support of Dame Thorold's school at Sidebrook. The Earl of Dysart is lord of the manor and principal landowner. The soil is light loam and clay; subsoil, blue clay. Bricks and tiles are made here. The chief crops are all kinds of cereals and roots. The area is 2,505 acres; rateable value, £2,626; the population in 1881 was 280.

WILLOUGHTON is a parish and village near the Wolds, on the Cliffs called "the back bone of England," in the Northern division of the county, parts of Lindsey, west division of Aslacoe wapentake, Gainsborough petty sessional division, union and county court district, rural deanery of Aslacoe, archdeaconry of Stow and diocese of Lincoln, 4 miles south from Kirton-in-Lindsey station and 9 east from Gainsborough. The church of St. Andrew is a perfectly plain building of stone, consisting of chancel and nave and a tower containing 1 bell: the chancel arch, which is Early English, and a Jacobean tomb in the chancel are the only remains of the original church. The register dates from the year 1599. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £160, in the gift of King's College, Cambridge, and the Earl of Scarbrough, alternately, and held since 1872 by the Rev. Edward Chapman Wilshere M.A. of St. John's College, Cambridge. There are Wesleyan and Primitive Methodist chapels; the latter was rebuilt in 1867, at a cost of £260, defrayed by subscription. The Earl of Scarbrough, who is lord of the manor, and King's College, Cambridge, are the principal landowners. The soil is sandy mould in the high land, and clay in the low land; subsoil, sand and clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley and turnips. The area is 2,684 acres; rateable value, £3,582; the population in 1881 was 520.

WILSFORD (Wivelsford) is a parish, in the Southern division of the county, parts of Kesteven, Winnibriggs wapentake, Sleaford petty sessional division, union and county court district, rural deanery of North Grantham, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 5 miles west-south-west from Sleaford, 9 north-east from Grantham and one mile and a half east from Ancaster station. The village is small, but pleasantly situated on the banks of a rivulet. The church of St. Mary is a fine building of stone, in the Norman, Early English, Decorated and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, nave with clerestory, aisles and an embattled tower (restored by Roger Warde, rector, in 1479), with fine spire, containing 3 bells: the chancel retains a double piscina, a credence and an aumbry on either side, and has also some remains of Norman work: the axis of the chancel, however, diverges considerably from that of the nave: both arcades are Early English, the north arcade taking the precedence in point of date: at the east end of the nave there are other indications of very Early Norman or perhaps Saxon work: the church was restored in 1860-1, when the roof of the chancel was reconstructed, the church reseated, preserving the old bench ends, and a stone pulpit and other fittings introduced; the work was carried out under the direction of Messrs. Kirk and Parry, architects. The register dates from the year 1668; marriages from 1754. The living is a rectory, gross yearly value £510, in the gift of and held since 1852 by the Rev. John Parkinson Baily Younge B.A. of Christ's College, Cambridge. Here is a Primitive Methodist chapel, built in 1859. That eminent scholar, Sir Charles Cotterell, of Queens' College, Cambridge, and hon. D.C.L. of Oxford, who was appointed in 1641 master of the ceremonies to Charles II. was born here: he resigned the office in 1686, in favour of his son Charles Lodowicke Cotterell, and died in 1701. It is supposed that Hugo de Wake, in the reign of Stephen, founded a priory at Wilsford, as a cell to the Abbey of Bec, in Normandy: this monastic cell was afterwards given to Bourn Abbey, and at the Dissolution was granted to Charles, Duke of Suffolk: traces of the buildings are still evident. On the heath, enclosed in 1775, are the celebrated Wilsford quarries, which produce a white and durable freestone, and commonly called "Ancaster stone," from its having been first wrought in that parish: many of the churches, public buildings and mansions in this county have been erected with this stone. Wilsford Hall, the residence of Miss Palmer, is an ancient stone building, erected in 1649, and enlarged 1776, as a hunting-box, by the late Duke of Rutland. Captain C. J. Myers, of Dunnywell, Cumberland, who is lord of the manor, the Rev. J. P. B. Younge B.A. rector, John Archer Houblon esq. of Hallingbury, Bishop's Stortford, Lt.-Col. Mildmay Willson Willson J.P. of Rauceby Hall, Sleaford, Edmund James Lucas-Calcraft esq. J.P. Charles Kirk esq. and Herbert Peake esq. are the principal landowners. The soil is various; subsoil, principally stone. The chief crops are all kinds of cereals and roots. The area is 2,860 acres; rateable value, £4,575; the population in 1881 was 689.

HANBECK is an extensive farm adjoining this village: it was formerly extra-parochial, but now united with Wilsford: it is the property of J. A. Houblon esq.

Parish Clerk, Robert Kingham.

WILSTHORPE is a township and parochial chapelry, in the Southern division of the county, Ness wapentake, parts of Kesteven and union of Stamford, from which latter place it is 7 miles north-east, county court district of Stamford, rural deanery of Ness, archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 4 miles south from Bourn, 3½ west from Market Deeping and about 2 south-east from the Braceborough station on the Bourn and Stamford railway. The old church of Wilsthorpe, a hamlet of Gretford, was pulled down in 1715, and a new church built to the eastward in the Italian style, at the cost of Edward Curtis esq.: in 1862 the edifice was reconstructed, from designs by Mr. James Fowler, architect, of Louth, and is now a substantial stone structure in the Early English style, consisting of chancel with vestry, nave and an octagonal bell-turret with spire on the western gable containing 1 bell: the plain windows of the nave have been filled with Gothic tracery, a circular cusped window inserted at the west end and the east window, of three lights, filled with stained glass: the whole interior has been refitted with pulpit, desk and open seats: in the church is an ancient effigy of a knight in mailed armour of the thirteenth century and bearing a shield emblazoned with the arms of Wake. The register, including Gretford, dates for baptisms and burials from the year 1770; marriages, 1754. The living of Gretford-cum-Wilsthorpe is a rectory, tithe rent-charge £194, joint gross yearly value £440, including 185 acres of glebe, with residence, in the gift of the Lord Chancellor, and held since 1884 by the Rev. Henry Joy D.D. of Trinity College, Dublin, who resides at Greatford. Here is an artesian well 52 feet deep, belonging to Peterborough Water Works. The soil is loam; subsoil, stone and gravel. The chief crops are wheat, barley and pasturage land. The township comprises about 800 acres of good land, chiefly the property of Mr. R. A. White, of Grantham, Arthur William English esq. J.P. of Aislaby Lodge, near Whitby, and the rector of Gretford; rateable value, £1,430; the population in 1881 was 81.

Parish Clerk, John Wilcox.

WINCEBY is a small parish, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, hundred of Hill, petty sessional division, union and county court district of Horncastle, rural deanery of Hill No. 1, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 5 miles east-by-south from Horncastle. The church of St. Margaret, erected in 1866, at the cost of the late Mr. C. Hill, is an edifice of stone, in a modern imitation of the Early English style, and consists of chancel, nave, south porch and an open belfry containing 1 bell: the stained east window was given by Miss Talfourd. The register dates from the year 1597. The living is a discharged rectory, tithe rent-charge £206, gross yearly value £273, including 39 acres of glebe, with house, in the gift of the Lord Chancellor, and held since 1881 by the Rev. Elijah Edward Baylee Salisbury B.D. of Queens' College, Cambridge. Here, on Wednesday, October 11th, 1643, a battle was fought between the Parliamentary forces under the Earl of Manchester and Colonel Cromwell and the Royal army, then marching to the relief of Bolingbroke Castle: in this encounter Cromwell was unhorsed, and Sir Ingram Hopton, in an attempt to capture him, was slain; the Royal troops, partly on account of a disastrous panic, were signally defeated. John Hill esq. is lord of the manor and owns all the land with the exception of the glebe. The soil is mostly heavy loam; subsoil, white clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats and seeds. The area is 842 acres; rateable value, £948; the population in 1881 was 64.

WINTERINGHAM is an old corporate town (which formerly had a market), parish and pleasant village, on the south bank of the Humber, in the Northern division of the county, parts of Lindsey, northern division of the wapentake of Manley, petty sessional division of Winterton, Glanford Brigg union, county court district of Barton-upon-Humber, rural deanery of Manlake, archdeaconry of Stow and diocese of Lincoln, 2½ miles north from Winterton, 7½ west from Barton and 7 north from Appleby railway station; on the opposite shore of the Humber is a station of the Hull and Selby railway, and on the river side are wharves for corn, malt, coal and timber. The church of All Saints is a building of stone, in the Norman and Early English styles, consisting of nave, aisles, south porch, transept and a western tower containing 5 bells: many of the windows are stained. The register dates from the year 1562. The living is a rectory, tithe rent-charge £162, net yearly value £500, including 290 acres of glebe, with residence, in the gift of Emmanuel College, Cambridge, and held since 1866 by the Rev. Charles Knowles M.A., J.P. formerly Dixie fellow of that college. There is a Wesleyan chapel and a Primitive Methodist chapel, built in 1837. The poor have yearly, in coals and money, the sum of about £12, arising from the bequests of the Rev. Thomas Adam, Eleanor Scarborough, Roger Manners and Thomas Middleton, and a dole of Mr. Thomas Boothby's produces about £16 yearly. Edward Westoby, late of this place, also left, in 1873, the sum of £90, the interest of which is given annually each Christmas Day in bread to the poor. In the old Rectory House, now used as stables and outhouses, Henry Kirke White, the poet, was, in 1799, for a brief period under the tuition of Mr. Grainger. A pleasure fair is held on the 14th of July. About half a mile east of the village the Roman town Ad Abum is supposed to have stood. Near the village is a chalybeate spring, thought to possess great medicinal qualities. St. Etheldreda, when she fled from her second husband, Egfrid, King of Northumbria, in order to devote herself to a religious life, crossed the Humber and landed at Winteringham haven, when, turning aside to the village of West Halton, then called "Alfham," at that time almost surrounded by marshes, she sought and received hospitality, and remaining there a short time, she built on that spot a church, which was dedicated in her honour, and is still known by her name. William de S. Barbara, a monk of Durham and dean of York, having gone in 1143 to attend a council in London, was, during his absence, elected Bishop of Durham, and on his return to the city of York, was met at Winteringham, and being informed of what had taken place was thereupon taken to the altar in Winteringham church, his election confirmed and a Te Deum sung to commemorate the event. A Temperance Hall was built in 1882 for the parish, at a cost of about £300. Lord Carrington, of Wycombe Abbey, Bucks, who is the lord of the manor, and the Rev. Charles Knowles M.A., J.P. rector, and owner of the glebe, are the principal landowners. The soil is a rich loam, resting on the oolitic limestone strata, which in this neighbourhood is but a little distance from the surface. The chief crops are wheat, barley, potatoes and beans. The area is 3,979 acres of land and 1,705 of water, principally arising from the washing away of the banks of the Humber; rateable value, £5,381 10s.; the population in 1881 was 671.

WINTERTON is a parish and small market town, giving title to a petty sessional division, in the Northern division of the county, parts of Lindsey, the northern division of the Manley wapentake, Glanford Brigg union, Barton-upon-Humber county court district, rural deanery of Manlake, archdeaconry of Stow and diocese of Lincoln, 2½ miles south from the Humber, 2 west from the river Ancholme, 4 north from Appleby station, 8 west-south-west from Barton and 10 north-north-west from Brigg. The town is lighted with gas and amply supplied with water and governed by a local board of 12 members. The church of All Saints is a handsome and spacious building of stone in the Norman and Early English styles, consisting of chancel, with organ chamber on the north side, transepts, nave of three bays, aisles with north and south porch and a western tower containing 5 bells, cast in 1734, by Daniel Hedderly: some of the windows are filled with modern stained glass: over the communion table is a painting of the "Holy Family," by Raphael Mengs, presented by Lady Boynton: in the floor of the chancel is a slab, which has lost some of its brasses, to John Rudd, merchant of the staple at Calais, 1504: in the chancel is a bas relief, with arms to Peter Gering, 1590: a grave slab of the Anglo Saxon period now serves as the lintel of the tower doorway, indicating that there was a church here some time before the Norman Conquest: the base and shaft of the old churchyard cross remain near the south porch: in the churchyard is also a gravestone, inscribed to William Teanby, who kept school in the church;

he cut the inscriptions himself and used the stone as a table while his coffin served for a cupboard; the inscription is a curious mixture of Latin and English, and begins "Prope Infra the turf lies the sordid atoms of Alice the wife of William Teanby, who died in June, 1756, in the 31st year of her age;" it ends with the record of his own death in 1810 (at the age of 97), added by a friend. The register dates from about 1558, the earlier ones having been copied and the rest carefully indexed by the present vicar. The living is a vicarage, tithe rent-charge £83, gross yearly value £198, including 52 acres of glebe, with residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Lincoln, and held since 1873 by Edward Synge Wilson T.A.K.C.L. Jonathan Dent, an eccentric inhabitant of this parish, who died at the age of 91 years, was (at his own request) buried in his garden: a tomb was erected over his remains, which bears date 1834. A Roman oven was discovered in 1868, in the side of a sandpit near the road to Winteringham. The Wesleyan chapel was built in 1877, at a cost of about £3,000 and contains an organ by Nicholson, of London: the old chapel, erected in 1837 is now disused. The Primitive Methodist chapel was built in 1879, at a cost of about £1,500. A cemetery of about three acres in extent, with a mortuary chapel, was formed in 1876, at a cost of £2,000, and is under the control of a Burial Board of 9 members. The parish reading room, King street, opened in 1879, has 30 members; the daily papers are taken in; William Hunt, hon. sec.; Thomas Parkinson, manager. Richard Beck, a surgeon, of Barton-upon-Humber, left by his will, dated October 8th, 1728, two yearly rent-charges out of the water-mill at Barrow, £3 3s. for educating poor children and £2 for the sick poor of this parish. A plot of land, of nearly 3 acres, which lets for £10 a year, was left for the repairs of the church. The police station, erected in 1853, is a commodious building, with hall for the petty sessions. Fairs for cattle are held here: one on the Tuesday before Palm Sunday, another on the 23rd of September, and a statute fair on the 9th of May. The feast is held on the 6th of July, and a corn market, established 1826, every Wednesday evening at the Cross Keys hotel. Agricultural implement and machine making is carried on here. The Oddfellows' (formerly Temperance) Hall, was built in 1850, at a cost of £400. Winterton cliff was evidently once occupied by the Romans, for in 1747 several beautiful tesselated pavements were discovered, as well as urns and other Roman antiquities, on the Cliff farm, the property of M. W. Clarke esq. who resides at the Hall, where there is a private museum of antiquities. The great Roman road, Ermine street, joining London, Lincoln and York passes through this parish. There is no lord of the manor. The principal landowners are the trustees of the late W. H. Driffill esq. John Dent Dent esq. M.A., D.L., J.P. of Ribston Hall, Wetherby, Joseph Popple esq. and the Rev. Joseph Jonathan Dent Dent M.A. vicar of Hunsingore, Wetherby. The soil is loam, peat and sand; subsoil, oolite and lias. The chief crops are wheat, oats and barley. The area is 3,628 acres; rateable value, £6,934 15s; the population in 1881 was 1,601.

Parish Clerk, Robert Young Nassau.

WINTHORPE is a parish, on the shore of the North Sea, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, Marsh division of Candleshoe wapentake, Spilsby petty sessional division, union and county court district, Candleshoe rural deanery No. 2, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 5 miles east-by-north from Burgh, 6 north-east from Wainfleet, 2 north from the Skegness station and 12 east from Spilsby. The water works pumping station is situated here, for the supply of water to the town of Skegness. The church of St. Mary is a building of freestone, in the Decorated and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, nave of five bays, with embattled clerestory, aisles, south porch and a western embattled tower with pinnacles and central vane, and containing 4 bells: there is a chapel at the end of each aisle, formed by parclose screens across the eastern bays; one of these chantries was either founded or endowed by Walter de Friskney, 1316, and dedicated to St. James: in the southern chantry are two brackets, piscina, aumbry and a plain grey sepulchral slab; the lower panels of the screen around the north chantry exhibit traces of colour, and the roof also appears to have been coloured and gilt; within the north chantry are six brackets and a piscina, and outside the screen the altar slab once fixed here; the chancel is wholly Perpendicular, and is remarkable for the beauty of its carved work, the stall ends of unusual size are both finely designed and admirably executed, and display a profusion of flowers, foliage and figures of animals; and one bears a carefully rendered carving of the legend of St. Hubert; the nave roof was renewed during the Perpendicular period; a good oak screen divides the nave and chancel, above which remain the bracket supports of the rood loft: near the screen is an aumbry; the windows of the north aisle retain some fragments of delicately painted glass, the Perpendicular porch is a beautiful example of that style, and has carved gracefully trailing foliage on its gable; several nearly effaced shields appear on its external walls and, within is a stoup; the east and west walls of the porch bear the legend: "Robert Lanquay and Wylly' Palm' that payd for thys God for hys mercy bring ham to hys blys:" the sepulchral slab of a civilian and his wife, of the fifteenth century, is built into the face of the porch; in the north chantry remains a slab with cross fleury, inscribed to Richard Arglys of Brington, priest. ob. 20 Nov. 1392; in the centre aisle is a small kneeling effigy in brass of a civilian, and below it an inscription to Robert Palmer, ob. 10 May, 1515; adjoining this are brasses of a civilian, his wife and 3 children, with a shield of arms and other ornaments, and an inscription to Richard Barowe, merchant of the Staple of Calais, and Batarick, his wife; ob. ille 20 Ap. 1505: the font is Perpendicular, on an octagonal base, adorned with shields: the church was restored in 1880, at a cost of £800, defrayed by subscriptions, and the chancel by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners at a cost of £550: on the south side of the churchyard is an ancient stone cross, raised on three steps, and surmounted by a dial. The register dates from the year 1723. The living is a discharged vicarage, consolidated with that of Burgh, joint gross yearly value £300, in the gift of the Bishop of Lincoln, and held since 1884 by the Rev. Darius James White B.A. of Queens' College, Cambridge, and surrogate; the Rev. William Arthur Brameld M.A. of Keble College, Oxford, is curate in charge. There are charities of £6 yearly value, arising from land at Butterwick and given to the aged poor. The Ecclesiastical Commissioners are lords of the manor. The chief landowners are the trustees of the late T. Cartwright esq. W. Everington esq. and Mr. A. J. Davey. The soil is loam, silt and clay; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are wheat, beans, peas, WISPINGTON is a parish, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, southern division of the wapentake of Gartree, petty sessional division, union and county court district of Horncastle, rural deanery of Gartree, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 4 miles north-west from Horncastle. The church of St. Margaret, originally a work of the Norman period, and entirely rebuilt in 1863, is an edifice in the Early English style, from designs by Mr. G. B. Atkinson, of York, consisting of chancel, nave, south porch, vestry and a light and graceful tower with spire containing 3 bells: the pulpit and font are of carved white stone, the carving having been in great part executed by the Rev. C. P. Terrot, the vicar: the chancel window is stained, and below it is a reredos of encaustic tiles; the eagle lectern, and a figure of St. Margaret, placed above a dedication stone in the west wall of the nave, were also carved by Mr. Terrot: there is an incised slab in the vestry, with the figure of a priest, a former rector, 1390, and an Early Perpendicular oak chest. The register dates from the year 1662. The living is a vicarage, yearly value £200 with residence and 80 acres of glebe, in the gift of Christopher Turnor esq. and held since 1838 by the Rev. Charles Pratt Terrot B.A. of Trinity College, Cambridge. Christopher Turnor esq. D.L., J.P. is lord of the manor and sole landowner. The soil is very varied; subsoil, mostly clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats and seeds. The area is 1,183 acres; rateable value, £1,248; the population in 1881 was 109.

NORTH WITHAM is a village and parish, pleasantly situated in a valley on the river Witham, and nearly a mile west of the Great North road, in the Southern division of the county, parts of Kesteven, wapentake of Beltisloe, Grantham union and county court district, rural deanery of Beltisloe, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 4½ miles south-west from Corby the nearest station, 12 north-west from Stamford and 10 south from Grantham. The church of St. Mary is a building of stone, in the Transitional and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, nave, south porch and a western tower with spire containing 3 bells: it was thoroughly restored in 1852, and contains three modern stained memorial windows and several handsome monuments of the Sherard family, including a brass to Roland Sherard, dated 1592, with an inscription written by himself in Latin verse. The register dates from the year 1591. The living is a rectory, gross yearly value £550, including 123 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of Viscount Downe, and held since 1861 by the Rev. Peter Young, M.A. of Exeter College, Oxford, Canon and Prebendary of Lincoln, and rural dean of Beltisloe. The charities amount to £4 13s. yearly, arising from land at Ufford, left by Mrs. Ruth Edge in 1717, and £2 13s. dividends of stock purchased by Sir B. Sherard and four other donors. The Earl of Dysart and the Governors of Browne's Hospital, Stamford, are joint lords of the manor. The principal landowners are the Earl of Dysart, Captain Robert Heathcote, of Hobthorpe, Grantham J.P. Lord Aveland D.L., J.P. the trustees of the late John Hardy esq. and others. The soil is loam; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are wheat and barley. The area is 2,373 acres, inclusive of Lobthorpe; rateable value, £2,521; the population in 1881 was 238.

LOBTHORPE is a hamlet, one mile and a half east, with a population in 1881 of 58.

SOUTH WITHAM (or WYTHAM), is a large village and parish, in the Southern division of the county, parts of Kesteven, Beltisloe wapentake, Grantham union and county court district, Bourn petty sessional division, Beltisloe rural deanery, and archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, pleasantly situated on the south-western border of the county, adjoining Rutlandshire, and on the river Witham, which has its source in the village 6½ miles south-west from Corby station, 11 south from Grantham and 10 north-by-west from Stamford. The church of St. John the Baptist is an ancient edifice of stone, originally cruciform, but the chancel, having been suffered to fall to ruin, was many years since removed; the portion still standing consists of nave, transept and a stone turret, containing 2 bells, and in a very dilapidated condition: there are several ancient monuments and brasses, the oldest being a small brass to Francis Harrington, who died in 1577. The register dates from the year 1686. The living is a rectory, gross yearly value £220, arising from 150 acres of land, with a residence, in the gift of the Earl of Dysart, and held since 1850 by the Rev. Ralph William Lyonel Tollemache-Tollemache M.A. of St. Peter's College, Cambridge J.P. Here are Wesleyan and Congregational chapels. There is a charity of £30 left by Richard Halford esq. formerly lord of the manor, the interest of which is distributed on St. Thomas' day to those poor who attend the parish church, and do not receive parochial relief. There are two fields belonging to the trustees of the South Wytham charities, and after paying small sums due to the clerk and constable respectively, the balance is distributed yearly among the most deserving and necessitous inhabitants: the gross rents of the two fields is £18 5s. The Earl of Dysart is lord of the manor and principal landowner. The soil is loam; subsoil, clay and stone. The chief crops are cereals. The area is 1,674 acres; rateable value, £2,446; the population in 1881 was 410.

WITHERN with STAIN.

WITHERN is a large village and parish, in the Mid division of the county, parts of Lindsey, Wold division of the hundred and petty sessional division of Calceworth, union and county court district of Louth, diocese and archdeaconry of Lincoln, and rural deanery of Calceworth No. 1, 2½ miles north from Claythorpe station, same distance north-east from Authorpe station, 135½ from London, 5 north-by-west from Alford, and 8½ south-east from Louth. The church of St. Margaret, rebuilt in 1812, is a modern building of brick, consisting of chancel, nave of three bays, aisles and a cupola belfry containing 1 bell: the chancel was thoroughly restored in 1875, but the church is generally in a very dilapidated state: there are mural monuments to Grantham Hodgson esq. of Louth, and his two wives and several children; and to the late Lister Fitzwilliam esq. the last representative of a family which formerly had extensive possessions in this parish and Maplethorpe: in 1693 he presented to the church a communion service engraved with his arms: there are sittings for 250 persons. The register dates from the year 1558, and there is a book containing the parish accounts from 1640. The living is a rectory, tithe rent-charge £448, including 50 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of Capt. Robert Charles Vyner and held since 1877 by the Rev. Frederick Augustus Glover M.A., LL.B., MUS. B. of Trinity College, Dublin. There is a Wesleyan Methodist chapel here, erected in 1875. The Rev. William Jones, rector here from 1706 to 1725, bequeathed £50 to be laid out in land, the income to be applied for ever to the education of the poor of Withern; and George Stovin, in 1726, left £100 for the same purpose. The bequest of Mr. Jones was laid out in the purchase of four acres of land at Skidbrook, the income of which, amounting to six guineas yearly, is applied towards the support of the school; the representatives of the late Richard Stovin Maw esq. pay £5 per cent. upon the bequest of George Stovin, which has not been invested in land. The Fitzwilliams had formerly a seat here, which is now occupied as a farmhouse; closely adjoining it is a large moated area. Here is a flax mill the property of Mr. John Mawer, of Abbey Grange. The chief landowners are Capt. Robert Charles Vyner, of Most house, Ganby, Horncastle, who is lord of the manor, the trustees of the late Mrs. Stovin Maw, and Mrs. Hilvers. The soil is strong loam; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley and oats; there is also some good pasture land in the parish. The area is 2,677 acres; rateable value, £4,019; the population in 1881, including Stain, was 457.

STAIN is an ancient parish, situate 3 miles north-east from Withern: it formerly had a church, which has been destroyed many years. The living is incorporated with Maplethorpe St. Mary, to the rector of which parish the tithes are paid; but for poor and highway rates it is assessed with Withern, and it is in consequence usually spoken of and treated as a hamlet of Withern. The population is not given separately from Withern in the population returns.

Parish Clerk, John Allett.

WOLD NEWTON (or NEWTON-LE-WOLD) is a village and parish in the Northern division of the county, parts of Lindsey, Bradley Haverstoe wapentake, Caistor union, Grimsby county court district, diocese of Lincoln, rural deanery of Grimsby No. 1 and archdeaconry of Stow. The village is situated, in a valley on the road, 8½ miles north-west from Louth, the like distance south from Great Grimsby and 4 west from North Thoresby station on the East Lincolnshire railway. The church of All Saints, situated upon an eminence, was entirely rebuilt in 1862 by the Hon. and Rev. G. W. Bourke, then rector, under the superintendence of Mr. James Fowler, architect, of Lincoln, and is a small structure of stone and brick, in the Early English style, consisting of apsidal chancel, nave, porch, vestry and an octagonal bell turret, surmounted by an elegant spirelet and containing 1 bell: the new church stands principally on the foundations of the old, the materials of which were used, and the interior is lined with brick banded with stone:

the stained triplet of lancet windows at the west end was presented by Mrs. Turner, of Nettleton rectory, near Caistor: the font, a fourteenth century work, has a mutilated inscription to John Curteys and his wife, the probable donors: the fittings of the church are all new: the total cost was £1,076, and the church was reopened on All Saints' day (Nov. 1, 1862), by the Archbishop of Canterbury. The register dates from the year 1578. The living is a rectory, tithe rent-charge £513, net yearly value £437, including 7 acres of glebe with residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Lichfield, and held since 1875 by the Rev. Charles Bird Jackson M.A. of Brasenose College, Oxford. Here is a small Primitive Methodist chapel. The trustees of the late William Wright esq. are lords of the manor, and the whole of the parish, with the exception of the glebe lands, belongs to them. The soil is a heavy loam; subsoil, chalk. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats and turnips. The area is 2,060 acres; rateable value, £3,231; the population in 1881 was 165.

WOODHALL SPA, see LANGTON ST. ANDREW.

WOOLSTHORPE is a parish, in the Southern division of the county, parts of Kesteven, wapentake of Winnibriggs, and Threo, Spittlegate petty sessional division, union and county court district of South Grantham, archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln. The village is pleasantly situated on the river Devon, close to the borders of Leicestershire, 6¾ miles west-by-south from Grantham, and 3¾ south-by-west from Sedgebrook station on the Great Northern railway, in the line of the Nottingham and Grantham canal, where there is a wharf. The church of St. James is a building of stone, in the Decorated style, erected in 1845–6 from designs by Mr. G. G. Place, of Nottingham, and consisting of chancel, nave, aisles and a tower, as yet unfinished: it has a very elaborately carved Perpendicular font, and the east window and some others are stained: the original church of St. James, of which some fragments of the tower remain, was burned down by soldiers of the Parliamentary Army who bivouacked there during the siege of Belvoir Castle: services were afterwards held in the Chapel of St. Mary, a small building in the middle of the village, which was taken down in 1793, and a church erected on the same site: the present edifice will seat 400 persons. The register of baptisms date from 1663; marriages, 1662; burials, 1661. The living is a rectory, tithe rent-charge £80, net yearly value £230, including 38 acres of glebe with residence, in the gift of the Duke of Rutland K.G. and held since 1879 by the Rev. Edward Alfred Gillett M.A. of Exeter College, Oxford. Part of the plantations and pleasure grounds of Belvoir Castle, the beautiful seat of the Duke of Rutland K.G. are in this parish: here is a spring called Holywell, which supplies Belvoir Castle with water, and there are also quarries of ironstone, worked by the Stanton Iron Company. In 1623, the manor of Woolsthorpe was purchased of Robert Underwood by Robert Newton, then resident here, whose grandfather John Newton, son of John Newton of Westby, near Bassingthorpe, had bought a house and land here in 1561. Isaac, the second son of Robert Newton, was the father of the distinguished philosopher, Sir Isaac Newton, his only child, who was born here December 25th, 1642, and christened in the parish church of Colsterworth, January 1, 1642-3: the manor house in which he was probably born, and in which he certainly spent his early life, is still standing; it has mullioned windows; he was educated at the Grammar School at Grantham, and proceeded in 1660 to Trinity College, Cambridge, of which in 1667, he was elected fellow: he died March 27, 1727, being then possessed of the manor of Woolsthorpe and lands at Buckminster and Sewstern, and was buried in Westminster Abbey. The Duke of Rutland K.G. is lord of the manor and chief landowner. The soil is clay; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley and oats. The area is 2,600 acres; rateable value, £2,983; the population in 1881 was 598.

WORLABY, near Brigg, is a large parish and pleasant village, in the Northern division of the county, parts of Lindsey, northern division of the wapentake of Yarborough, petty sessional division of Brigg, union and county court district of Brigg, rural deanery of Yarborough No. 1, archdeaconry of Stow, and diocese of Lincoln, 5 miles north-east from Brigg, 6 south-west from Barton and 2 north-east from Elsham station on the Manchester, Sheffield and Lincolnshire railway. The church of St. Clement, rebuilt in 1872, at the sole expense of the trustees of the late T. G. Corbett, esq. is an edifice in the Early English style, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles and a tower containing 3 bells: the east window is a memorial to William and Thomas Hesseltine, placed by William Hesseltine, of Beaumont Cote eldest son of the former, and by the daughter of the latter: there is an inscribed stone dated 1670 to John Lord Bellasyse, Baron of Worlaby: the church plate includes an ancient cup and cover of hand-beaten silver, dated 1569. The register dates from the year 1559. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £330, including 11 acres of glebe, with residence, in the gift of the trustees of the late T. G. Corbett esq. of Elsham hall, and held since 1872 by the Rev. Arnold Wordsworth Savory, of Wadham College, Oxford. There are Wesleyan and Primitive Methodist chapels here. Here is a well-built hospital, founded by John Lord Bellasyse, Baron of Worlaby, in the year 1663, for four poor women: it is a brick building in good preservation, and under the control and direction of the vicar and two trustees; each inmate receives 2s. per week and coals. In the centre of the village is a drinking fonntain, built in 1873 by Sir John Dugdale Astley bart. at a cost of £100. The trustees of the late Thomas George Corbett esq. of Elsham hall, are lords of the manor and chief landowners. The soil of about one-half the parish is of a fine chalk subsoil, and highly fertile; the other part of the parish, viz. the Carrs, consists of a clay subsoil of rather black nature. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats, and good pasture land. The area is 3,234 acres; rateable value, £5,762 10s.; the population in 1881 was 582.

yearly value £612, including 63 acres of glebe at Wragby with residence, is the gift of Christopher Turnor esq. of Stoke Rochford, in this county, and held since 1882 by the Rev. Henry Bolland M.A. of Trinity College, Cambridge. There is a Wesleyan Methodist chapel. In 1697 Sir Edmund Turnor knt. founded a chapel and almshouses for six clergy widows and six lay widows or widowers of Wragby, and in 1708 he devised an endowment thereto; they were rebuilt in 1840, in the Gothic style, at a cost of £1,950, out of funds accumulated from unappropriated pensions: the present payment is 25s. a quarter to clergy widows, 16s. 8d. per quarter to the lay widows, in addition to which the latter receive £5 each yearly from the interest of £1,000 £3 per cent. consols, bequeathed by the late Mrs. Yard, wife of a former vicar; there is also a payment to the vicar of £40 a year. A library and reading-room, granted rent free by C. Turnor esq. for the benefit of the working men, was established in 1856; the number of volumes is now upwards of 1,260; it is well supported by subscriptions and the proceeds of lectures, which are given during the winter months. The Thursday market is in abeyance, and there are two fairs for cattle, on the 1st of May and the 28th and 29th of September. There is a Market house, which is not now used for the purpose. Christopher Turnor esq. D.L., J.P. of Stoke Rochford, Grantham, is lord of the manor and sole landowner. The soil is mostly heavy loam; subsoil, blue clay. The chief crops are wheat, beans and oats. The area is 1,594 acres; rateable value, £2,396; the population in 1881 was 508.

WRANGLE is a parish near the seashore, in the Southern division of the county, parts of Holland, in Ashwardhurn wapentake, Boston union and county court district, rural deanery of North Holland No. 2, archdeaconry and diocese of Lincoln, 9 miles north-north-east from Boston, 4 south-east from the Old Leake station on the East Lincolnshire railway and 117 from London. The church of St. Mary and St. Nicholas is a building of stone, in the Late Norman or Transitional, Early English or Later styles, consisting of chancel, clerestoried nave of six bays, south porch and a tower containing 6 bells: the earliest feature in the church is a richly worked arch of Late Norman or Transitional character, between the tower and the nave, and next, the Early English doorway of the porch, which is itself Perpendicular; the chancel is Decorated, the nave arcades, and clerestory chiefly Perpendicular, and both clerestory and aisles have embattled parapets: the chancel retains its sedilia and an aumbry: the windows of the north aisle contain considerable remains of the ancient glass placed here by John Harold and Alice his wife, John Haliday, formerly vicar of Wrangle, Alan Haliday, Agnes Haliday and Thomas de Weyversty, Abbot of Waltham: the glass is in part heraldic, and otherwise consists of figures of prophets and subjects from the New Testament, together with figures of saints and angels: on the south side of the chancel are recumbent effigies, inscribed in Latin to Sir John Reade, a member of a family of wealthy merchants, once resident here, who died November 12th, 1626; the tomb was erected by Ann, his wife, daughter of Sir John Garret, Lord Mayor of London, who also placed her own effigy thereon; the tomb also bears figures of their children and an English inscription, with 12 lines of verse, in rhyming couplets: the pulpit is a good example of Jacobean work, and has a canopied sounding board: the font was given by Richard Bailey, vicar, in 1724: there are several tablets to the Bailey and Wright families. The register dates from the year 1653. The living is a vicarage, gross yearly value £760, including 12 acres of glebe with residence, in the gift of Mrs. Wright, and held since 1858 by the Rev. Richard Franklin Wright M.A. of St. John's College, Oxford. There are Wesleyan and Primitive Methodist chapels. There are charities of about £80 yearly value for distribution. The Ecclesiastical Commissioners, John Swain, Robert Keal, Charles F. Swain, George Gask and Absolom Chapman esqrs. are the principal landowners, but there are innumerable smaller landowners. The soil is rich loam; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are corn, potatoes, mangold-wurtzel and turnips, with a good portion of rich pasture land. The area is 6,800 acres of land and 2,890 of water; rateable value, £8,290; the population in 1881 was 165.

The ASSOCIATION employs NO AGENTS, and pays NO COMMISSION in any shape for the introduction of Policies.

Its expenses are small, being less than 3 per cent. of its annual income from premiums and interest.

An investigation of its affairs is made every year, and the surplus is applied to the reduction of the Premiums until they are extinguished, and then to the increase of the sum assured. The reduction begins with the eighth premium.

During the last 30 years the reduction has increased, on an average, at the rate of about One per cent. per annum. and as the mortality among its Members continues to be much within the estimate, and the Funds of the Society are invested at a higher rate of interest than is assumed in the valuations, it is expected that the Premiums may be still further reduced.

PREMIUMS commenced before July 1876 (4th series) are this year reduced 68 per cent.
" " July 1876 (3rd series) " " 78 "
" " July 1865 (2nd series) " " 93 "
" " January 1856 (1st series) " " 100 "

And, as the reduction of premiums in the First Series can be carried no further, an addition of three per cent. of the annual premium has this year been made to the sum assured.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.—Insurances are granted on Property situate in all parts of the British Dominions, and in most Foreign Countries, at rates which are computed according to the actual risk incurred. The Company has already paid over FOUR MILLIONS STERLING in the settlement of Claims under its Fire Policies.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.—The Company offers the advantage of perfect Security, with great Economy in Management and Moderate Rates of Premium. The total expenses in the year 1883 were slightly under 7½ per cent. of the Income from Premiums and Interest, or, excluding Commission paid to Agents, less than 4 per cent.

In the Participation Branch the whole of the ascertained surplus at each valuation belongs to the Assured. The amount for the Quinquennium ending 31st December, 1880, was sufficient to provide a Bonus of £1 10s. per cent. per annum upon the sum Assured or £7 10s. per cent. on the whole Quinquennium, beside leaving £46,511 to be carried forward.

Insurances against Loss by Fire and Lightning are effected by the PHŒNIX COMPANY upon every description of property, in all parts of the World, on the most favourable Terms.

The experience of over a Century has proved the promptitude and liberality with which its engagements are always met by this Company, and the importance of its relations with the Public may be estimated from the fact that, since its establishment, it has paid in discharge of Claims for Losses more than

FOURTEEN MILLIONS STERLING.

Persons insured by this Company are not liable to make good the Losses of others, as is the case in many Offices, and the protection afforded is undoubted, the Capital being largely invested in Government Securities, and the Proprietary including some of the most opulent Gentlemen and Merchants in the kingdom.

Rates and Particulars of Insurance may be obtained at the Chief Offices, Lombard Street, and Charing Cross, and from the respective Agents of the Company, for whose names see Body of this Directory. [34]

THE BUSINESS OF THE COMPANY

Has increased steadily year by year, until it has attained its present large amount, and during the last 80 years its progress has been very rapid.

The ANNUAL REVENUE exceeds EIGHT HUNDRED AND SEVENTY THOUSAND POUNDS STERLING.

The ACCUMULATED and INVESTED FUND exceeds SIX MILLIONS STERLING.

The Directors invite particular attention to the new terms and conditions of the Free Assurance Scheme, under which persons assured are allowed to reside in any part of the world free of extra premium.

FREE ASSURANCE.—Persons not less than 25 years of age, who, when proposing for Assurance, satisfy the Directors that they have no intention or prospect of proceeding abroad, from their occupation and other circumstances, are charged the ordinary Home Premium, and may afterwards proceed to and reside in any part of the world without extra premium.

Existing Policy Holders shall have the benefit of the new terms and conditions, on application to that effect, provided the Directors are satisfied that such new benefit ought to be conferred.

POLICIES OF FIVE YEARS' DURATION effected for the whole term of life, at a uniform rate of premium may, with certain exceptions, be renewed within thirteen months of date of lapsing on payment of a Fine; and in the event of death, the claims will be paid subject to deduction of Premiums unpaid and Fines.

POLICIES OF LESS THAN FIVE YEARS' DURATION may be renewed within Thirteen Months on very favourable terms.

The PROFITS of the Company have been divided on ten occasions:—The first division took place in 1885, then in 1840, 1845, 1850, 1855, 1860, 1865, 1870, 1875 and 1880.

The next DIVISION OF PROFITS for the 5 years, ending 15th November, 1885, will be declared in 1886.

Surrender Values granted after one annual payment on With Profit Policies, or three annual payments on those Without Profit, or Loans granted on such Policies within their surrender value.

Every information can be obtained at any of the Offices or Agencies of the Company. [36]

WESTMINSTER FIRE OFFICE.

27, KING STREET, COVENT GARDEN, LONDON, W.C.

FOUNDED A.D. 1717.

LOSSES FROM EXPLOSION OF GAS ON THE PREMISES INSURED AND LOSSES BY LIGHTNING MADE GOOD.

RENT INSURED.

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND LIBERALLY SETTLED.

The Westminster Fire Office, established in the reign of King George I., is one of the oldest offices for insurance against damage by fire now existing; it has carried on an extensive business for One Hundred and Sixty-Eight Years, and during the whole of that period has maintained the highest character for respectability and liberality in all its transactions.

Applications respecting Insurances should be made either to the Society's Agents or at the Head Office.

CHAS. ROUSE BROWNE, Secretary.

The Directors invite applications for Agency from Gentlemen who are in a position to introduce Business.

WESTMINSTER AND GENERAL LIFE OFFICE,

28, KING STREET, COVENT GARDEN, LONDON, W.C.

ESTABLISHED 1836. [34]

Trustees:

ARTHUR T. PRATT BARLOW, Esq. EDWARD BRYDGES HARDISTY, Esq. ALBERT MOTT, Esq.

Entire security is given to the Assured by a Guaranteed Capital of nearly £120,000, and a Fund amounting to £485,000 invested in the Public Stocks and on Mortgages, &c., being the accumulated premiums received on Assurances.

The rates of Premium are moderate and the conditions of Assurance liberal.

Eighty per Cent. of the net profits are divided every five years among the holders of Policies under the participating class of Assurers.

The Tenth Division of profit will be made in February, 1887.

The profits may either be received in Cash or a Bonus added to the Policy, or a reduction made in all future Annual Premiums.

At the Ninth Division of Profit, declared 21st February, 1882, on the business of the Association for the Five Years ending 31st December, 1881, Reversionary Additions were made to the sums assured of 38 per cent. and under (according to the age of the life assured) on the premiums received upon Policies since the division of 1877.

Annual Premiums may be paid by Half-Yearly or Quarterly Instalments.

Endowment Assurances are granted by this Association, by which a person, by the payment of a moderate Annual Premium, can secure a sum to be paid to himself, should he attain a specified age, or the amount will be paid to his representatives, should he die before that time.

Immediate, Deferred, and Survivorship Annuities granted upon favourable terms.

The Directors invite applications for Agency from Gentlemen who are in a position to introduce business.

BELL'S ASBESTOS.

BELL'S ASBESTOS BLOCK PACKING for High-Pressure Engines.

The following refers to this Packing:—

Department of the Director of Navy Contracts.
Admiralty, Whitehall, S.W., 20th June, 1884.

SIR,—I have to inform you that your tender for the delivery of Bell's Rolled Asbestos Cloth Packing has been accepted.

To Mr. John Bell. JOHN COLLETT, Director of Navy Contracts.

New Zealand Shipping Co. Ltd. s.s. "Ruapehu," Royal Albert Dock, 19th May, 1884.

Bell's Asbestos Works, Southwark.

Gentlemen,—I beg to state that your Round Asbestos Block Packing was used in the high-pressure pistons of this ship, with the following remarkable results:—14,000 miles continuous steaming without renewal; steam pressure, 110lb.; vacuum, 29 inches. My experience does not show an equal result from any other packing. The voyage from New Zealand to Plymouth was accomplished in 37 days 22 hours, being the fastest run from New Zealand on record.

Yours obediently, D. HENDERSON, Chief Engineer, s.s. "Ruapehu."

As these packings are extensively imitated, and as it is a common practice among dealers and agents to supply the cheaper manufactures at my list prices, users are requested to see that the packing supplied to them bears the trade mark.

BELL'S ASBESTOS BOILER PRESERVATIVE.—This useful mixture, by absorbing the free oxygen that is in the water, entirely checks pitting and corrosion. It also disintegrates incrustation so immediately as to prevent its adhering to the plates.

Not only is a great economy of fuel effected by keeping boilers clean, but the risk of having the plates burned is thereby obviated.

It has been computed that 1-16th in. thick of incrustation causes a waste of 15 per cent. of coal; ¼in., 60 per cent.; ½in., 150 per cent.

Thus the Preservative avoids the great risks which are inseparable from scaled plates, lengthens the life of a boiler, and covers its own cost a hundred-fold by economy of fuel.

It is entirely harmless, and has no injurious action on metals.

It can be put into the feed tank or boiler, as may be most convenient.

Sold in drums and casks bearing the trade mark without which none is genuine.

BELL'S ASBESTOS YARN and SOAPSTONE PACKING for Locomotives and all Stationary Engines running at very high speed with intense friction.

The goods of this house are of the highest quality only, and no attempt is made to compete with any other manufacturers by the supply of inferior materials at low prices. All orders must be sent direct to the undermentioned depôts, and not through agents or factors.

BELL'S ASBESTOS BOILER AND PIPE COVERING COMPOSITION for coating every class of steam pipes and boilers, non-combustible, and easily applied when steam is up; adheres to metals, and preserves from rust; prevents the unequal expansion and contraction of boilers exposed to weather; covers 50 per cent. more surface than any other coating, and is absolutely indestructible. It can be stripped off after many years use, mixed up with 20 per cent. of fresh, and applied again. The composition is supplied dry, and is only to be mixed with water to the consistency required for use.

A Horizontal Boiler, 17ft. 6in. long, 15-H.P., gave the following results:—

Temperature on Plates .. .. .. 186 deg.
" " Covering .. .. 94 deg.

1 ton of coal was saved per week, and although the fire was raked out every evening, 20 lb. of steam were found in the boiler next morning.

The following Testimonial refers to this Covering.

Offices of the Wimbledon Local Board, Wimbledon.
November 28th, 1883.

DEAR SIR,—It may interest you to know that we save exactly 40 per cent. in fuel through using your covering.

Yours truly,
W. SANTO CRIMP, C.E., F.G.S.

BELL'S ASBESTOS & INDIA-RUBBER WOVEN TAPE & SHEETING, for making every class of Steam and Water Joints. It can be bent by hand to the form required without puckering, and is especially useful in making joints of manhole and mudhole doors; also for large "still" joints where boiling fat and steam have to be resisted. It is kept in stock in rolls of 100ft. from ¼in. to 3in. wide and any thickness from 1-16th in. upwards.

The same material is made up into sheets about 40in. square, and each sheet bears the Trade Mark, without which none is genuine.

It is very necessary to guard against imitations of this useful material, and to secure themselves against being supplied with these inferior articles, at my price, users are recommended to see that every 10ft. length of the Asbestos Tape purchased by them bears the Trade Mark.

BELL'S SPECIAL LONDON-MADE ASBESTOS MILLBOARD, for Dry Steam Joints.

BELL'S ASBESTOS EXPANSION SHEETING (PATENT).

This Sheeting is another combination of Asbestos with India-rubber, giving to the steam user the special advantages of both materials.

The India-rubber Washer is protected from the action of heat and grease by an outer coating of vulcanised Asbestos Cloth, thus producing an excellent joint where expansion and contraction render other materials unserviceable.

This material is admirably suited to steam-pipe joints and every class of valve.

Bell's Asbestos Paint.

The Company's own teams collect and deliver Goods daily in all parts of London.

THE COMPANY'S STATIONS IN LONDON ARE AS FOLLOWS:—

KING'S CROSS GOODS STATION affords every facility for loading and unloading goods to or from vans, or to or from lighters working over the Regent's Canal, direct to the river and docks. Potato Market and Granaries at King's Cross Station.

FARRINGDON STREET STATION is adjacent to the Metropolitan Meat and Poultry Markets; also to Farringdon Market for fruit and vegetables. Market consignments can be more expeditiously delivered from Farringdon Street than from any other London Goods Station.

This Station is central, and most convenient for bales and cases of Lancashire, Yorkshire, Scotch and Irish Manufactures, and for general traffic to and from the City. Spacious warehouse room afforded.

ROYAL MINT STREET STATION is close to the London and St. Katharine's Docks, Billingsgate Fish Market, and the various wharves and riverside premises. Goods are received at and delivered from this Station in through wagons.

BLACKFRIARS STATION, at the southern end of Blackfriars Bridge, affords accommodation for traffic from or to the Borough, Lambeth and the south side of the Thames, thus rendering unnecessary the cartage hitherto performed across London.

POPLAR DOCK STATION, in Preston road, is the Great Northern Depôt for Shipping Goods to or from East and West India, and Millwall Docks (also for Royal Victoria and Albert Docks, when for collection or delivery by Barge), and for general traffic for the Eastern Districts of London, including Limehouse, Millwall, Blackwall, Bow, Bromley and Stratford. Goods can be transferred by Barge or otherwise to or from all the docks, wharves and waterside warehouses. Crane power up to 30 tons is provided, also extensive Warehouse Room and Cellarage. The Railway Wagons also run into the East and West India and Millwall Docks, when containing Goods for ships in "Railway Berth."

ROYAL VICTORIA AND ALBERT DOCKS.—Shipping Goods from the Manufacturing Districts, and from any part of the Great Northern Line and its connections, are conveyed in through trucks, and placed alongside vessels in these Docks. Goods from Ship are also loaded direct into the Company's wagons for forwarding to all parts of the Great Northern system.

VICTORIA DOCK STATION.—The Company's Depôt at Tidal Basin entrance to Docks is also the centre for collection and delivery of General Goods from and to Silvertown (including the various works on the Silvertown Tram-road, Beckton, North Woolwich, Canning Town, Barking Road, Barking, Plaistow, Upton, East and West Ham. ["Railway."

To prevent delay and disappointment, senders of Goods and Parcels should be particular to address and consign "per Great Northern BONDED STORES.—The Great Northern Railway Company have made arrangements with Messrs. Courtney & Co., Trinity Bonded Vaults, Cooper's Row, Crutched Friars, London, E.C., for warehousing Spirits under bond in London, and goods should be plainly consigned to them at Royal Mint Street Station, Great Northern Railway.

COAL.—The Company's chief Depots in London are at King's Cross Station, Caledonian Road (Islington), Holloway, Ashburton Grove and Clarence Yard, Hackney Wick, Highbury Vale, Finsbury Park, Elephant and Castle, Camberwell and Clapham Road.

NOTE.—The Company are prepared, at several of the above-named places, to arrange with Traders for Wharfage of Store Bricks, Tiles, Sanitary Tubes and other Building Materials, and for the Warehousing of General Goods, carried by their Railway.

PIG POWDERS

SPEEDILY ARREST DISEASE AND SAVE LIFE,

And are acknowledged the best remedy for

SWINE FEVER	TENDER FEET	COSTIVENESS	FITS
COLDS	LOSS OF APPETITE	MILK FEVER	HOOSE
RETENTION OF URINE	INFLAMMATION	COUGHS	&c., &c.

THEY ARE A MEDICINE AND CONDIMENT IN ONE.

The lives of thousands of Pigs are annually saved by their use. No person who keeps a Pig should be without them, for, by their regular use when in health, they prevent disease, by cleansing and stimulating the system, and by giving tone to the stomach, not only increase the APPETITE, but enable the system to separate a greater amount of flesh-forming material from the same quantity of food, thus assisting the animal to lay on fat rapidly, and assuring a larger growth.

CAUTION.—The immense success of these Powders throughout England, has called forth numerous imitations, most of which are perfectly useless as a Medicine, being only a low-priced condiment, worthless in disease. These Powders, on the contrary, maintain their superiority over all others, and give entire satisfaction to all using them. In fact they are the only MEDICINE which CURES all DISEASES to which PIGS are SUBJECT.

The following Extracts form a few of the many hundreds of letters received.

MARIA HUBBARD, Uppingham, says:

"I had a pig suffering from severe inflammation of the lungs; one packet of Dennis's Pig Powders quite cured it."

Mr. WM. EDWARDS, Police Officer, Treharris, says:

"I think it right that Dennis's Pig Powders should be widelyknown, for I have reason to strongly recommend them. I lost a sow in pig, also six other pigs three months old. I had four of this litter left, also one sow, all of which had been in the same yard with those that died: I procured and gave your Powders as directed, and I am pleased to say all speedily recovered and are now well. Make this known for the benefit of others."

Mr. G. THIRLING, Carlinghow, says:

"I am pleased to say my pig is all right again; three Dennis's Powders quite cured it."

Mr. CHAS. CASON, Carlinghow, says:

"It gives me great pleasure to inform you that Dennis's Powders for Pigs are an excellent medicine. Before using them I unfortunately got disease amongst my pigs, and lost on an average two a week for some time. Since using your Powders, which I have done for a month, I have not lost another; the disease has disappeared. An occasional dose as directed keeps them in health. I strongly recommend them to all pig breeders."

Mr. F. MARCH, Chemist, Stamford, says:

"Dennis's Powders are well spoken of, in fact I may say they give universal satisfaction. I could obtain a large number of testimonials if you should desire it."

Mr. GRUNDY, Eastgate, Louth, says:

"I had a pig so exceedingly ill that I believe I should have lost it had it not been for Dennis's Powders, which I strongly recommend."

Sold everywhere in Packets, with full directions on each.—Six Powders for Fivepence, Twelve for Tenpence.

Chemists and others not having them in stock will readily procure them, or the Proprietor will send free a Box containing 1 Gross of Powders for 10/-, ½ Gross for 5/-, ¼ Gross for 2/9, 1 Doz. 1/-, for P.O.O. or Stamps.

C. E. BARTON,

MACHINE MAKER,

Ice and Soda Breaker Manufacturer and Patentee,

PROVIDENCE WORKS, GRIMSBY.

C. E. BARTON, having obtained Her Majesty's Royal Letters Patent for the above Ice and Soda Breaking Machines, begs to call the attention of Fish Merchants and Smack Owners to its general utility in the trade at all Fishing Ports and Inland Markets where Fish is packed for customers; also on board all Fishing Vessels and Cutters of Fishing Fleets.

In the Port of Grimsby alone, more than Six Hundred Vessels have them in use. They effect a great saving of Ice and Labour, also the Fish realises more money in the markets, being in better condition.

The above Machines have been favoured with the following Awards from the following Fishery Exhibitions:—Norwich, 1881, Bronze Medal; Bremen, Prussia, 1882, Silver Medal; Lyskell, Sweden, 1883, Silver Medal and Diploma of Honour; London, 1883, International Bronze Medal, also Diploma of Honour. These are the only awards ever given by any Exhibition in the World. [18]

WOODHALL SPA,
HORNCASTLE.

VICTORIA HOTEL AND BATHS.

THE Hotel, which has been recently re-furnished at great cost, with its large gardens, park and lawns, affords luxurious accommodation to Visitors and Patients at most moderate prices, and is under new and efficient management. The sanitary arrangements are perfect and have been recently re-arranged under scientific advice.

The Spa is highly favoured by climate and excels all other English Spas in sunshine and fair weather. The whole district is exceedingly healthy and invalids rapidly improve on arrival.

The exquisite purity and health-giving qualities of the air of this district are very remarkable, and many ailments are here completely cured without any other treatment than by what German Doctors call "Air Baths," namely, walks and drives in the open air.

The waters of Woodhall Spa have long been celebrated for their curative properties in cases of Gout, Rheumatism, Tumours, etc.

TUESDAY'S LINCOLN CHRONICLE. — FRIDAY'S LINCOLNSHIRE CHRONICLE. — SATURDAY'S LINCOLN CHRONICLE.
Offices: 259, HIGH STREET, LINCOLN.

TUESDAY'S LINCOLN CHRONICLE is published in time for Post on Monday Evenings, and contains the Latest News up to the time of going to Press, including Mark Lane and other Monday's Markets. It contains 24 columns of News, and its price is ONE HALF-PENNY. The only Lincolnshire County Paper.

FRIDAY'S LINCOLNSHIRE CHRONICLE is the LARGEST AND BEST PENNY PAPER in the Midland Counties. It is the recognised County Family Newspaper, and the medium for official advertisements of all three divisions of Lincolnshire, and for those of the Public Institutions connected with the City and County. It contains ample reports of matters of public interest in and around every Market Town in the County, supplied by correspondents of acknowledged ability; full and comprehensive reports of all county meetings; and a judicious selection of General and Foreign News of the week. The LINCOLNSHIRE CHRONICLE is, in fact, the Popular Family Paper of the wealthy and important district comprising the Wolds, the Heaths, the Fens, and Marshes of this part of the Kingdom. The Postal Circulation of this Paper exceeds that of all its contemporaries combined. Its ordinary circulation is unequalled. It is printed in time for the Post and late trains on Thursday Evening, and is published simultaneously on Friday Morning in every Town in the County. It contains 56 Columns of News, and its price is ONE PENNY.

SATURDAY'S LINCOLN CHRONICLE is devoted principally to the publication of matters of interest affecting the City and Neighbouring Villages. It contains also a Summary of the County News of the Week, and a variety of Home and Foreign Intelligence. Full Reports of Lincoln and other Friday's Markets are also given; and special attention is paid to Reports of Football, Cricket, and other Matches in Sports which take place in and around the City. This paper contains more readable matter than all its contemporaries combined, and is the CHEAPEST PAPER EVER PRINTED IN LINCOLN. It is published early on Saturday Morning, and is sold by travelling Agents in the country districts, and by hawkers in Lincoln. It contains 56 columns, and is sold at ONE PENNY.

In addition to the above, a SPECIAL EDITION is published early on Saturday Morning for HORNCASTLE and DISTRICT. Full Reports of all matters affecting that town are given, and also a Summary of the Week's County and General News, the Latest Markets, &c. It contains 56 Columns, and its price is ONE PENNY. Over 1,500 Copies of this Edition are Sold weekly in and around Horncastle.

Advertisement Price Lists may be had on application at the Offices: 259, HIGH STREET, LINCOLN.

RETFORD, WORKSOP, ISLE OF AXHOLME AND GAINSBURGH NEWS.

(FRIDAYS) 56 COLUMNS (ONE PENNY).

Printing & Publishing Offices:—MARKET PLACE, GAINSBURGH.

Circulates extensively in North Lincolnshire, North Notts, East Yorkshire and East Derbyshire. One of the Five Chief Manufacturing Centres, two large Seaports, eight Market Towns and over two hundred Villages recognise the "NEWS" as an established and reliable medium for Advertising and General Information.

THE "NEWS" contains a carefully selected epitome of General News, with the fullest reports of Local Events collated by efficient Reporters and Correspondents, exclusively retained in all the principal Villages. It is not a mere reprint of any County paper, but is printed by a special staff at the Head Office, Gainsburgh; it has also Branch Offices at Retford and Worksop; and has thus facilities for the insertion of Late Advertisements and Late Local News, quite beyond the reach of smaller papers printed outside the district.

THE "NEWS" advocates and publishes all matters affecting the interests and improvement of agriculture, the extension of commerce, and the welfare of the industrial and manufacturing classes generally. It is read by all classes and creeds, moral, philosophical and political. The state of all the leading markets is carefully recorded. ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE.

THE "NEWS" has been three times enlarged to accommodate advertisements, and presents an average of 9 columns of Advertisements weekly more than any other local paper. THE "NEWS" PREPAID RATE for Advertisements, Wanted, To Let, and For Sale, is 6d. for 16 Words, and 3d. for every additional 7 words.

The "NEWS" has 8 long columns more News and Advertisements than any other local paper, and has the Largest Circle of Readers and the Widest District of any local printed paper. Proprietor, C. CALDICOTT. [8]

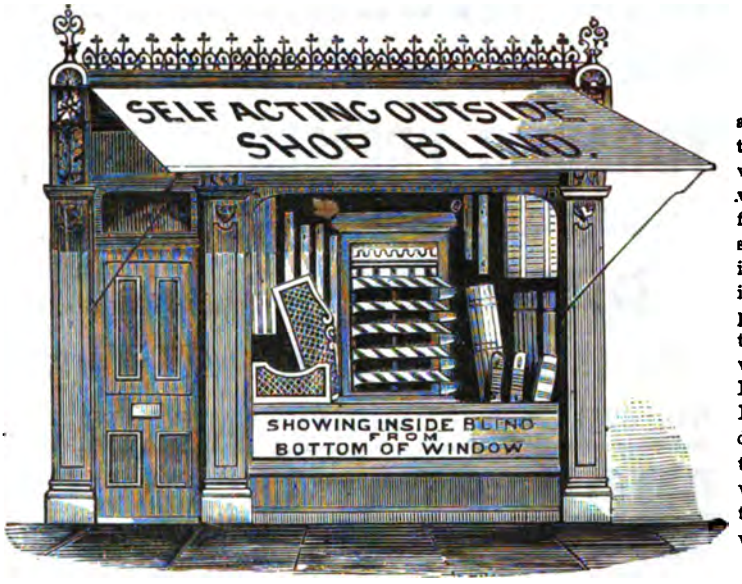
HENRY JORDAN.

Spring Blind Manufacturer.



ON A NEW PRINCIPLE. ALL ROLLERS WARRANTED FOR 5 YEARS.

FIRST-CLASS REFERENCES.

Outside Shop Blinds.

The special advantages gained in these Rollers consist in the introduction of Springs, warranted not to break from any cause whatever, the steel being specially drawn for the advertiser.

These Blinds can be made up to 40 feet in length if necessary.

Inside Shop Blinds.

These Blinds are fixed from the bottom as well as top of window, and are fixed out of sight, so that where, as in some cases, it is impossible to protect the bottom of window with the outside Blind, the inside Blind can be drawn upwards to any length without closing the whole of window.

GENTLEMEN,—I have the pleasure of sending you herewith an analysis of the Cake branded "C. & F. WARRANTED 95 P CT. PURE," which you sent me a short time ago. You will notice that this cake is both rich in Oil and Albuminous Compound. Its condition is fresh and good, and it is made entirely from clean Linseed, without any admixture, and in my opinion is a first-class pure Linseed Cake.

The Hull and Lincolnshire Times.

THE HULL AND LINCOLNSHIRE TIMES (Established 1857), Published on SATURDAYS in FIVE EDITIONS, has a very extensive circulation through the East Riding of Yorkshire and Lincolnshire. The increasing popularity of this Journal is attested by the fact that its CIRCULATION has more than TREBLED during the past Four Years, and has now reached an average WEEKLY issue of nearly 20,000. This is the largest increase of any paper in the extensive districts of Hull, the East Riding, and Lincolnshire. In North Lincolnshire it is the recognised Local organ in nearly every Town and Village. The TIMES is read by all sections of the community, and is the most popular and the largest Weekly Penny Newspaper for Hull and the neighbourhood. For all classes of Advertisements, The TIMES is therefore a first-class medium.

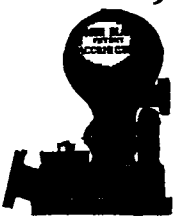
SEND FOR A PRICE LIST OF

JOHN BLAKE'S PATENT

SELF-ACTING HYDRAULIC RAMS,



For Raising Water for the supply of Towns, Villages, Irrigation, Railway Stations, Mansions, Fountains, Farms.

No Cost for Motive Power, which is obtained from the Stream of Water passing through the Rams.

NO OILING OR PACKING REQUIRED.

Made in sizes to raise from 300 to 500,000 Gallons per day. Will force to a height of 1,500ft.

Special Rams for High Falls to send up Two Gallons out of every Five Gallons passing through them.

This Ram will force a part of the same water that works it, or will force clean water from a well or spring whilst worked by a stream of impure water. Rams on this principle can be supplied to force to a height of 1,500 feet.

This Ram, for deep working falls, is capable of sending up two gallons out of every five gallons passing through it.

TESTIMONIALS.

From Mr. R. W. STREETER, F.R.G.S., Diamond Merchant, Bond Street, London, and Sackville Park, Sussex, October 1, 1883.

"Dear Sir,—When you surveyed the site at Sackville Place, Buxted, for the purpose of fixing a Ram with one mile of collecting and distributing mains, I was surprised and pleased when you named the quantity of water you could send up from the resources available. My bailiff prepared the ground to your instructions, and in twelve days from the arrival of your men, the Ram was in operation, sending up 20 per cent. more water than you promised to a height of 110 feet, and distributing a supply to a farm and several cottages on the way. I have pleasure in recording my entire approval of the work."

From Mr. A. J. RUTHERFORD, Agent to C. F. H. Bolckow, Esq., Estate Office, Marton Hall, Middlesbrough, Sept. 26, 1883.

"Dear Sir,—I am glad to say that the Rams you put down on the Hambledon Estate, for Mr. C. F. H. Bolckow, are working very well. You undertook, with 16 gallons per minute, to send up 1,500 gallons a day, and with enough water to work the Rams at full power, 2,000 gallons a day. With a supply of 11¼ gallons per minute they are lifting 2,200 gallons, and when working full power 3,105 gallons per day are sent up to a height of nearly 400 feet. They made a clear start, and have gone well since."

[The Delivery pipe in the above case is 9,000 feet in length.]

From the Right Honourable the EARL OF GRANARD, Castle Forbes, March 1st, 1880.

"The Hydraulic Ram erected for me at Castle Forbes has answered perfectly. Considering the very small fall obtainable by the nature of the ground, it is a great success, and throws up water to a cistern on the top of a tower 80 feet high. When Mr. Blake first proposed to put it up I doubted the possibility of its succeeding, owing to the nature of the ground, but I have been most agreeably undeceived.—GRANARD."

From T. H. SIDEBOTTOM, Esq., Etherow House, Hadfield, February 22nd, 1882.

"Induced by the good report of my cousin, Mr. J. A. Sidebottom, as to the working of the Hydraulic Ram he had from you, I ordered the one you fixed here a year ago, which I am pleased to say has since worked well night and day. Yet the two rams you fixed at Snow's Hill Manor, Gloucestershire, for my brothers and myself, are, I think, a still more remarkable example of your success. We had a Ram fixed by a well-known firm, which proved a miserable failure, and which your Rams displaced. They are forcing the water through three-quarters of a mile of delivery pipe, a little in excess of the quantity you guaranteed, to an elevation of 340 feet, and without the slightest hitch to the time of the last report from our tenant."

From Mr. HENRY ROBINSON, Engineer to the Stockport District Waterworks Co., September 8, 1883.

"Dear Sir,—I can now report well of the two Hydraulic Rams we have fixed to your instructions for the supply of Disley Village. 40,000 gallons per day was the quantity you promised they would force to a height of 68 feet, but on testing them I am convinced that 50,000 gallons is not the limit of their power, whilst the quantity of waste water used in driving them is not equal to half the capacity of the 6-inch pipe by which they are fed, and I am inclined to the belief that a more simple and efficient pump cannot be found."

From Mr. WILLIAM LAIT, Architect and County Surveyor, Compton Verney, Warwick, 16th January, 1882.

"I have very much pleasure in stating that the Patent Hydraulic Ram I had from you for the Rev. J. Cardwell-Gardiner, of the Vicarage, Butler's Marston, and which you fixed there is, I consider, remarkably successful, as indicated below: 4,120 gallons of water per day are passing through the Ram with a descent of 13ft. 8in. Out of this small quantity 1,080 gallons are sent up to a height of 41ft., showing 78 per cent. of useful effect, and the noise of it working is so slight as to be almost inaudible."

From V. F. BENETT-STANFORD, Esq., M.P., Pyt House, Tisbury, Wilts, August 20, 1880.

"I have no hesitation in saying your Self-acting Hydraulic Ram and apparatus for extinguishing fire, which you laid down here, including about one mile of pipes, are very satisfactory. The Ram forces upwards of 5,000 gallons per day to a service reservoir holding 25,000 gallons, at an elevation of 296ft., being 70ft. above the roof of the house, from which reservoir the water is distributed to the house, stables, home farm, and several cottages; and in case of fire, four jets can be thrown on the house from different sides at a great force and large volume. I consider your work has been done well and efficiently, and does you credit."

From the Right Hon. the EARL OF ROMNEY, 56, Eaton Place, S.W. June 12th, 1880.

"Sir,—In reply to your inquiry, I have pleasure in stating that the Hydraulic Ram which you erected for me at Gayton does its work remarkably well, and is a great success. I think the work is especially creditable to you on account of the very small fall of but 3 feet with which you had to deal, and I shall always be glad to recommend you.—Yours faithfully, ROMNEY."

From Captain TOWNSHEND, Wincham, February 10th, 1877.

"In answer to your inquiry, I am glad to say the Hydraulic Ram you sent me in November, 1875, is working exceedingly well, and gives no trouble. It will work when quite immersed, as it has been several times during the floods this winter, forcing up water through a delivery pipe 900 yards long at the rate of 80,000 gallons per day, although you only promised 50,000."

Blake's Rams have been supplied to the following—amongst others:

ANCIENT ROME.

HISTORY OF ROME

AND THE ROMAN PEOPLE,

FROM ITS ORIGIN TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE CHRISTIAN EMPIRE.

By VICTOR DURUY.

EDITED BY THE REV. J. P. MAHAFFY.

Illustrated with about 3,000 Engravings, 100 Maps and Plans, and numerous Chromo-lithographs.
Imp. 8vo. Cloth.

VOL. I.—PRIMITIVE HISTORY TO THE END OF THE SECOND PUNIC WAR.

VOL. II.—FROM THE BATTLE OF ZAMÆ TO THE END OF THE FIRST TRIUMVIRATE.

VOL. III.—CÆSAR—OCTAVIUS—TO THE COMMENCEMENT OF AUGUSTUS.

"The merits of M. Duruy's work are so widely acknowledged that it is not necessary to enter upon any lengthened statement showing the great range of historical research displayed in it, or upon any fresh eulogy of the author's power of exposition and illustration. It deals confidently and plausibly with the elucidation of all that is obscure in the great borderland between the prehistoric and the historic. There could be no better present to a student than the magnificent edition of M. Duruy's 'History of the Romans.' It is a book well arranged, well written, well printed, and well illustrated."—Times.

"Its illustrations are a great feature, abundant and strikingly successful, the most recent gains of archæological research being thus brought under the reader's attention, while views and reproductions of photographs help him to read the history of Rome as far as possible in Italy and among the remains of that varied record. The point and vivacity of the French language has not been lost by its translators, and it has obviously been undertaken by competent hands, from whose skill and knowledge the greatest success may be expected."—Daily Telegraph.

"This splendid work . . . ."—Daily News.

"It is richly illustrated and finely got up, and will be as sumptuous in form as it is able in character."—British Quarterly Review.

"A storehouse of artistic illustration of Roman History."—Guardian.

"Duruy's 'History of Rome' is already considered by competent judges to be a standard book of reference, M. Victor Duruy having availed himself of every possible assistance, both from the pages of the great German and Italian Roman historians, such as Niebuhr, Otfried Müller, and Micali, and also from the works of more recent writers, not only on Latin history and literature, but upon the Roman antiquities and late discoveries tending to throw light upon events of historical importance."—Morning Post.

NOW READY, Large 8vo., 390 Pages, 106 Woodcuts, PRICE EIGHT SHILLINGS.

GEOLOGY OF THE COUNTIES OF ENGLAND,

AND OF

NORTH AND SOUTH WALES,

By W. JEROME HARRISON, F.G.S.,

Science Demonstrator for the Birmingham School Board, late Curator Leicester Town Museum.

To the detailed description of the Geological features of each County there are added lists of the local Scientific Societies, Museums, Maps and Memoirs of the Geological Survey, and the more important books and papers written by private workers.

REVIEWS.

"We have tested it in many ways, and find that in almost every case the latest information, even when published in journals of very restricted circulation, has been discovered and made use of. There are numerous excellent woodcuts . . . We can heartily recommend this book as a convenient and reliable work of reference."—Nature.

Geology of the Counties of England and Wales, by W. J. Harrison, F.G.S.—"We sincerely compliment Mr. Harrison on producing a good and much required work of geology, which will save a student, not only much personal research and time, but put him on the track of almost everything geological which England and Wales can offer to him."—Science Gossip.

"..... It is obvious that a work full of local details and laden with references is of little value unless scrupulously accurate. Can we, then, rely upon Mr. Harrison's volume as a trustworthy guide? To this question we are able to return a very practical answer. It is now several months since the work was published, and during that time we have had frequent occasion to consult its pages, to check its references, and to put its information to the test. It is a pleasure to state that, so far as our investigation has gone, we can unhesitatingly pronounce the book to be in every way a trustworthy compilation."—The Academy.

"A new interest will thus be attached to the summer holiday or the rural excursion; and with a degree of mental effort, too slight to be otherwise than agreeable, a progress of education may be continually going forward. Taking each county in turn, the writer has carefully indicated the principal rock-masses, or geological formations, tracing a stratum more or less minutely, with the position and direction of the beds..... The tyro in geology who chooses any part of Wales for his summer outing will find in Mr. Harrison a guide who will bring him face-to-face with Nature in her most primitive and characteristic haunts."—Saturday Review.
